Democrats Blast Ford's Tax Cut Deal

By MIKE MOORE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's proposal to link a $28 billion tax cut to a matching cut in federal spending will die in the Congress, two Democratic economic leaders predict.

Meanwhile, Democrats in Congress are pushing several alternatives to the Ford plan, which they charge was politically motivated.

Ford has called for an extension of last year's $22.9-billion tax cut and additional reductions that would allow a family of four making $15,000 a year to reduce its taxes by $287 over 1975.

While all sides apparently want to extend in some form the 1975 tax reduction, a showdown may come over how it is to be accomplished. Ford has demanded any tax cut be matched with reduced federal spending, while some Democrats have said this approach is unrealistic.

The issue will intensify when Congress returns from its Columbus Day recess next week, but leading congressional Democrats already predict Ford will be turned back on his proposal to tie the tax cut and spending reduction.

Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, and Rep. George H. Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said Sunday that the 1975 tax cut should not be made permanent and predicted that Ford's proposal will not be passed by Congress.

Proxmire, D-Wis., said that Ford's plan would cut taxes before the 1976 presidential election, but would not cut back spending until after election day. He added Ford's strategy was apparently to give the economy "a hypo and then let it go right down the drain after the election."

Mahon said he opposes the tax cut because it is too large. They appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

While the two Democrats agreed that federal spending should be cut, they said the two proposals should not be tied to one another.

"We've been up and down this road and it hasn't succeeded," Mahon, D-Texas, said. "I don't see any meaningful way of tying the two together. There is no way I see to meet the President's proposals."

Mahon said, "We will cut defense, we can do a better job with food stamps," but he declined to say how close Congress would be able to get to Ford's request for a $395 billion spending ceiling in fiscal 1977.

Mayor Breaks Leg At Philly Inferno

By ELLIOTT MINOR
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Explosions at an oil refinery fire on the Schuylkill River sent Mayor Frank L. Rizzo running for cover, and a collision with a fireman on the scene put the mayor in the hospital today with a broken thigh.

More than 350 firemen and 150 Atlantic Richfield Co. (ARCO) employees worked amid windy gusts to subdue the inferno at the Atlantic Refinery Co. facility. Early today, the fire was said to be stabilized but not under control.

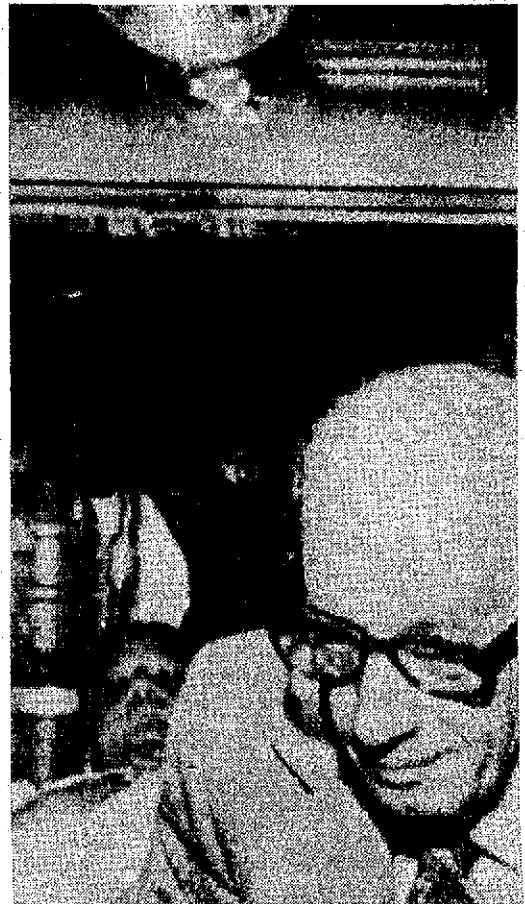

The fire broke out Sunday night in an eight-foot trench containing a dozen pipes, setting off a series of explosions and sending plumes of flame hundreds of feet into the air. The cause remained unknown.

Plant officials said they didn't think that any storage tanks had exploded, although the blaze was swirling around two fuel tanks with capacities of 35,000 and 9,000 barrels.

The giant 800-acre refinery is up the river from the Gulf Oil Co. plant in south Philadelphia where eight firemen died fighting a blaze Aug. 17 at a Gulf Oil Co. refinery.

The ARCO blaze sent six persons to the hospital. Five were treated and released. The sixth was Rizzo, 54, who suffered a

Petroleum Fires Fatal To Scores

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Oil related infernos similar to today's at the Atlantic Richfield Co. (ARCO) refinery are no strangers to the area. More than 50 persons have been killed in refinery related fires in the Philadelphia area during the past five years alone. The latest blaze injured six persons, including Mayor Frank Rizzo, who broke his thigh. Eight firemen died as a result of the Aug. 17 blaze at the Gulf Oil Co. refinery. That fire caused damage estimated at $10 million and burned for a week. Last January, the S.S. Edgar M. Queoney struck the Greek tanker Carinthos at British Petroleum dock in Marcus Hook, causing an explosion that killed at least 25 crewmen. In April 1974, the Green tanker Elias exploded at an ARCO dock on the Delaware River, killing 12 persons. At the ARCO refinery itself, a 13-story catalytic unit exploded in 1970, killing seven company employees.

REFINERY FIRE CONTINUES: Flames roar through the air early today at ARCO oil refinery in Philadelphia, Pa. Fire started Sunday evening. Cause of multi-alarm blaze has not been determined. More than 350 firemen and 150 ARCO employees worked to subdue it as explosions sent plumes of flame hundreds of feet in air. (AP Wirephoto)

BRIDGMAN LEADS FADE

Police Seek Trace Of Bank Bandit

By STEVE McQUOWN
Staff Writer

Police today said they have few leads in the Friday holdup that netted a lone gunman $55,000 from the Bridgman branch of the Farmers and Merchants National bank.

Paul Mills, a detective with the Berrien county sheriff's department, said several possible leads about a get-away vehicle the bandit used were investigated and eliminated.

Mills said the police are still looking for witnesses who might have seen the denim-clad white man carrying a black bowling bag leave the bank shortly after 6 p.m.

There were no shots fired and no one was injured in the bank robbery that occurred just as the branch was preparing to close.

The bandit held two employees at bay in the bank's vault while three other employees in the bank were unaware of the robbery in progress, police and bank officials have said.

The robbery came after Branch Manager Kenneth Conklin had been lured away from the bank by a telephone caller who said Conklin's wife had been hurt in a car-pedestrian accident in downtown St.

Joseph.

Mills said Conklin reported the caller identified himself as a "Trooper Lassiter" of the state police.

The caller told the 28-year-old branch manager his wife had been injured and was at Memorial hospital in St. Joseph, Mills said.

The FBI said they believe the telephone call to Conklin, and the subsequent robbery, were related and part of a "planned and professional" bank holdup.

Shortly after Conklin left the bank, the holdup man entered, inquired about opening a safety deposit box, and pulled a handgun on a bank employee who had taken him to the vault where the boxes are located.

A second employee bank employee who went to the vault after becoming suspicious, was held there by the gunman while the bowling bag was being stuffed with money, police and FBI officers said.

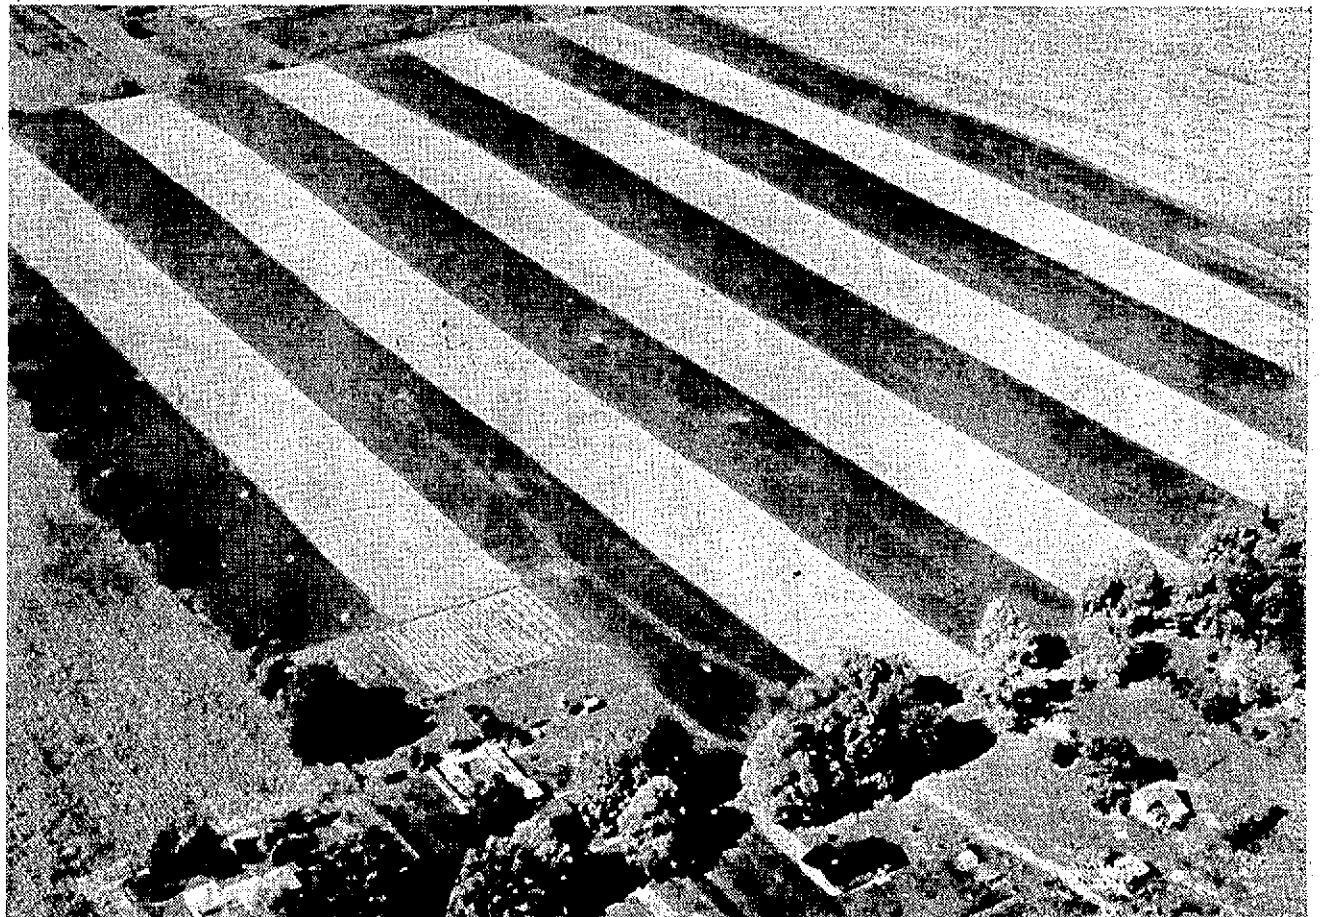

The holdup man had been in the bank earlier in the week to inquire about opening up a safety deposit box and had talked with Conklin and several other employees, Mills said.

The holdup man was described as about 6-foot-2, weighing about 220 pounds. He was dressed in a denim clothes and was wearing a plaid cap over his dark, collar-length hair, employees told police.

Police said that after the bowling bag was filled, the man left the bank and melted into a crowd awaiting the beginning of a Bridgman high school homecoming parade.

UNFINISHED FLAG: Van Buren County Farmer Phillip Curtis unknowingly had a good start on a giant flag on his farm northeast of Paw Paw. Alternating strips of alfalfa (dark) and newly-seeded alfalfa (light) have this appearance from the sky. Aerial Photographer Adolph Hann got picture of it. Strips (or stripes) are

2,000 feet long. System is call strip-cropping. Purpose is to prevent wind erosion of soil by alternating bare and covered soil. Farms 1,000 acres in area, has a 25-head dairy herd and feeds 140 hogs. Acreage here is on Van Buren County Road 653 about two miles north of Red Arrow highway. (Adolph Hann aerial photo)

Trooper's Family Safe As Kidnap Call Proves Hoax

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — A state police trooper assigned to the South Haven post was the victim of a kidnap hoax Saturday night, according to police authorities here. Tpr. Wayne Peterman reported receiving a telephone call at his home at about 9:25 p.m. Saturday from a man who said he had kidnapped Peterman's wife and 22-year-old daughter. Peterman said he could hear screaming in the background. The women had gone to the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area about 7 p.m. to shop and possibly go to a show. The women were located safe at a theatre in St. Joseph by state police troopers from the Benton Harbor post at approximately 10:10 p.m. Police said an investigation is continuing.

Military Chief Of Portugal May Lose His Post

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A tough line soldier and moderate socialist, Brig. Gen. Manuel Franco Charais, may replace President Francisco da Costa Gomes as chief of staff of the armed forces, informed sources report.

The sources said Premier Jose Pinheiro da Azevedo wants the president to relinquish his military command because he is reluctant to act forcefully against leftist-military men who mutinied in Oporto last week and demonstrated against the government in Coimbra.

Deregulating Regulators An Ambitious Program

An ambitious segment in the Ford Administration's program which has yet to lift off the ground is to free up that part of the economy whose destiny is guided by administrative fiat rather than by marketplace realities.

There is nothing novel in the suggestion because for years most economists have cited endless samples of regulations ostensibly made to protect the public actually becoming a shelter for the businesses to which they are applied. In the guise of safeguarding the customer from price gouging, these rules have become a haven for the participants, many of which, if left to their own devices, would go down the drain.

Transportation is an outstanding example of governmental regulation unduly padding the ultimate cost of goods and services.

By itself, freight and passenger service is expensive. Regulation of the business helps to make it more so.

Each type, rail, truck, air, pipeline, barge line, enjoys inborn advantages over one another, and within their own ranks, some are better operators than others.

Nonetheless, the state and federal agencies which charter and regulate those functions are chary to the point of no return in refusing to allow them to exploit those advantages. The rational is that the efficient would drive the less efficient to the wall and in the long run take over the entire field, at which time the survivor would charge all the market would bear and then some.

In some applications a railroad can handle freight more expeditiously than trucks because of the volumetric nature of the problem. The rails, though, are prohibited from lowering their fares so as to acquire that traffic.

As an engineering feat, it is no trick whatever to transport granulated coal through a pipeline. The coal is mixed with water into a slurry which is pumped through the line, and dried at the delivery point. Both the railroad managements and their unions so far have blocked franchising of the project because the pipeline cost to the customer would be far less than delivery by the Iron Horse.

Earlier in this month Continental Trailways offered, as an experiment, an opportunity fare to unemployed persons to encourage them to take a bus ride to a town where job hunting might be more promising.

The immobility in labor is of great sociological concern and a layman would say that any maneuver to lift the pall in an unemployment pocket would be all to the good.

Greyhound Lines doesn't agree. It has filed objections with the ICC charging Continental with providing discriminatory fares. The Commission has not ruled yet on the complaint, but the odds are the precedents in rate cutting will find Continental executing a no-no.

A few days ago President Ford urged Congress to amend the law to give the commercial airlines an option to raise fares up to 10 per cent or to lower them to 20 per cent without prior approval from the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The Board and the Air Transport Association immediately declaimed this would not only plunge the industry into chaos, but worse yet would lead to small towns served only by regional feeder lines being cut off from the outside world.

We are certain the traffic manager in any local firm large enough to require his expertise could tell the reader many more instances of how rigid thought processes at Washington and the state capitols impede the economy under the banner of protecting the consumer.

The truth is the consumer is overprotected to the point of being choked to death.

Even President No Match For Bureaucrats

For all the talk about the "imperial presidency" and the abuse of executive power, the fact of the matter is that a president is to a startling degree at the mercy not only of Congress but of a horde of invisible bureaucrats who are virtually immune to executive discipline.

So says John P. Roche, a university professor who syndicated newspaper column appears regularly in The Herald-Palladium. Roche bases the statement on his experience as a speech writer and advisor to Lyndon B. Johnson.

Harry Truman was right when he said "the buck stops here." That is, it is the president's obligation to settle policy. From inside, however, says Roche, "you rapidly learn that the real problem is to get important decisions where they belong: on the desk in the Oval Office."

Stopping the buck at the top "does not call for displays of courage as much as it does for an efficient espionage apparatus to guarantee that key decisions are not being made by invisible bureaucrats, to make sure the buck does not stop someplace else."

The armor of this bureaucracy is civil service tenure, provided by Congress to about 98 per cent of the administrative establishment and originally considered a great reform designed to eliminate the spoils system. Roche discovered that he was one of only about 700 members of the thousands in the Johnson administration whom the President could summarily fire.

The real battle in Washington, he claims, is not between the administration and Congress. "It is between the president and a secret alliance of the legislature and the bureaucracy, who share the common objective of cutting the president down."

It is almost impossible to exaggerate the ingenuity displayed by the bureaucracy in stonewalling a presidential policy, he says. Take the example of the supply of deadly poisons retained by the CIA in defiance of a presidential order.

How could the president have found out about it? The CIA director didn't tell him. By getting one of the invisible men down about five layers to squeal on another?

Actually, says Roche, most episodes of this sort surface because of a personal grudge leading to an anonymous tip to a congressman or journalist.

Watergate, he suggests, while it was an absurd, criminal extreme, was part of a process that goes back to World War II in which presidents have been driven to improvise techniques for control of the administration.

Ironically, in his effort to create the power the textbooks say he had, Richard Nixon set in motion a train of events leading to congressional predominance unmatched in history.

SAYS THE 'OLD FOGIES' MAY RISE UP

Editor,
Somehow, I don't find much comfort in knowing that the Berrien County Sheriff's Dept. has a S.W.A.T. team that according to your article can "lay down a continuous hail of bullets."

The training of such a team seems not only a waste of taxpayers' money but probably more dangerous to the public than whatever threat they may be called upon to quell. Has a situation ever arisen in Berrien County where their services might be needed? Sure, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, but Berrien County is not New York, Chicago, Detroit, Vietnam, Devil's Island or Dante's Inferno.

Your article stated that members of the team can drop 300 feet off a roof of a building to reach a gunman controlling hallways. In the Twin Cities the only places that might be that high are Senior Citizen apartment buildings. Oh, well, at least we'll be able to blow the old fogies to bits should they ever stage an uprising.

Perhaps though I'm naive, perhaps there is some sinister force at work in Berrien County. If there is, I wish someone would tell me what it is so that I'll be able to stay away from that continuous hail of bullets, when it occurs.

Sincerely,
T. W. Allen

AGREES AMERICANS NEED LESS SCHOOLING

Editor,
Since my arrival at Berrien Springs I have been reading with interest the Herald-Palladium and I wish to congratulate you for the good articles which you publish.

Wednesday, Oct. 8, page 10, the article "Americans Need Less Schooling" is a commentary on the views of Harold Howe. After presenting objections to 16 years of classrooms as excessive Mr. Howe states: "it would be preferable for adults to be allowed a year of formal education at government expense when they are more mature and in better position to appreciate it." My personal experience of 27 years as an educator and school administrator confirms the value of this idea.

I hope this concept can be re-emphasized by all means until it becomes clear to those in position to effect a change and further that it will contribute to the development and well-being of all.

APPRECIATES SALUTE TO FOLLIES

Editor,
Although not always agreeing with your editorial comment, I wish to thank you for your thoughtful and candid appraisal of the efforts of the Woman's Service League, and their "Fabulous Follies 75". As a participant of the Follies, although not a member of WSL, you have well described my own feelings in your editorial of 10-7-75.

My observations were, that this is one of the hardest working group of WOMEN, that I've ever had the pleasure of being associated with. It is most satisfying to have been part of an endeavor that can and will benefit anyone in our community, regardless of social or economic position. Some of the credit must also go to the MEN, or should I call them boys, that gave so generously of their time and talent in making this

The spirit of the city's founders hovered over today's "Y" campaign effort as the fund solicitors slowly made their way toward the $300,000 goal. From Ohio and Oklahoma came telegrams that brought money and benedictions. They were from the kin of Benton Harbor's early-day settlers and builders. George Bell Ricaby, prominent Toledo real estate operator and former Benton Harbor boy, wired Secretary Pound of the Chamber of Commerce. He made a donation of $500 in the names of his uncles, Dr. George M. Bell and Dr. John Bell. And then from far away Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, came another wire to Mr. Pound from another former Benton Harbor boy, son of a one-time early resident. It was from Roscoe D. Farmer and it said: "Wire received. Chalk me down for $200. May you win in a walk."

An action taken by the board of supervisors this morning lends truth to the report that the Three I railroad will cross the St. Joe river and establish a terminus in Benton Harbor. The action was the passage of a bill calling a special session of the board to convene November 26 for the purpose of passing a resolution allowing the Three I to construct a railroad bridge across the river. The action was taken on petition of the Three I officials, who declare emphatically that the Benton Harbor spur will be completed by next summer without a shadow of a doubt.

Inside Peek At CIA Mood

WASHINGTON — After months of almost daily exhumation of skeletons in the organization closet, the mood within the Central Intelligence Agency might be categorized as thus: Professional attitude remains high, morale is middling but "great expectations" are at an all-time low. At least this is how one agent views membership sentiment today as, he says, "everybody and his dog continues to kick dirt on us," and many in America wonder how long the spy group can endure the onslaught.

"I probably speak for most of our people," the agent says, shrugging, "when I say that each day in the agency is broken into two parts: You begin the day thinking things (scandals) may be getting better, but by evening they are worse than before. The surprising thing is so many of us put up with it. Most of us could shift easily to other government agencies or into private business, but we don't. Maybe it's a machismo thing: 'Let (them-) hit - us - with - their - best.' I don't know. But we stay."

This personalized view of CIA disposition today is provided by a friendly source who as far as is known is completely devoted to the agency. As such, it is at best a biased opinion, and, given the CIA genius for such things, it may even be a prepared or programmed one. Nevertheless the source, in his late 30s and fairly experienced in the mid-management level of espionage, presents a portrait of intelligence agents somewhat more fleshed out than the silhouette image long cherished by curious and confused Americans.

The agent says the Phillip Agee idea that CIA members are little less than the "secret police of American Capitalism" is a slander. "There is no monolithic mind inside the agency," as he puts it, "we may be singularly patriotic, we may also feel somewhat elitist, but we don't all go to the toilet at the same time."

For instance, the agent explains, he smokes pot occasionally, other agents believe socialism has its good side, "and you'd have no trouble finding anti-Nixon or anti-Ford" employees.

There is no rebellion brewing, the agent adds carefully, reminding that mutiny is not tolerated and the really dissatisfied are removed when discovered (one way to discover them: periodic lie detector tests are given CIA employees to determine loyalty and inclinations). Yet there is a strong belief that the U.S. cannot survive without a CIA operation, and that operation cannot survive without support from the public. So, says the agent: "Naturally, we know we must redefine our methods in accordance with public wishes."

Hard gospel aside, though, the agent confesses that the CIA of the future will "probably be something less than it is today." He says there is a substantial feeling in the agency that Director William Colby must be retired and replaced by "somebody spotless, somebody angelic." Who? "I like Elliot Richardson," the agent grins.

"Even more important than CIA reorganization," this source continues, is the need for a remariage with public confidence. "Harry Truman said the nation's best interests do not live on the principle that everybody has the right to know everything, and I believe that. At the same time it may be everybody has a right to know more than they have in the past about intelligence activity. Somewhere there must be a happy meeting; I think many agency people feel this is so."

Political Stew Spiced By Pot

WASHINGTON — How thoughtful of Jack Ford to take the political heat off his mother.

And put it on his father. The President's son has just become the first White House sibling to admit to a crime while his dad was an incumbent. He has smoked marijuana, the possession and purchasing of which carry criminal penalties everywhere but five states.

That surely ought to stir up the moralists as much as the First Lady's remarks acknowledging that in view of the changing sexual standards her daughter might some day have an affair.

The President, promptly asked for a reaction to his son's confession, proved to be less forthcoming on sensitive subjects than his wife. He avoided publicly chastising his son, praised his son's candor, and flatly declined to state his own views on the use of pot.

Politically, the President cannot afford to be caught up in a controversy about drugs. Gov. Ronald Reagan's pending candidacy has put him under great pressure not to offend the staunch conservatives in his party, most of whom view drugs as symptomatic of the liberal permissiveness they abhor.

Jack Ford's high-level scorn for the law, however, might push along a liberalizing trend that has been accelerating since pot became an issue in the 1972 presidential campaign. Richard Nixon, as part of his self-imposed puritan image, firmly opposed any change in the law while George McGovern defensively spent most of the campaign denying he had ever said marijuana ought to be legalized. (He had, back in the New Hampshire primary when he was still largely ignored and only the kids liked him.)

The President's own Domestic Council drug review task force recommended recently, in a report the President has yet to make public, that a low priority be given to enforcement of marijuana laws.

Bills to decriminalize (but not legalize) marijuana are pending in both Senate and House, but opposition is so stiff in both bodies that no favorable action is likely soon.

Approximately 22 states are now debating various forms of legislation to decriminalize pot. Court cases challenging the law's constitutionality are in process in many states, including one being argued by former Attorney General Ramsey Clark in the District of Columbia District Court.

Medical opinion is divided on the effects of regular pot-smoking, and so are public attitudes toward it. Various studies have shown that a majority of marijuana possession cases are dropped before they come to court as unworthy of prosecution. But a recent survey of residents of the capital metropolitan area showed only about one-third (38 per cent) favor reduction of criminal penalties for smoking pot, almost the identical result of a similar survey two years ago.

'Hooker' Presents New Twist

MONTREAL (AP) — Xaviera Hollander, the self-proclaimed prostitute currently on an international campaign for sexual liberation, has a new twist on an old double standard.

On the subject of nudity, the prostitute-turned-author commented, "It isn't necessarily sensual. But a half-dressed woman — that's beautiful."

TWO 'CHRISTMAS SEALS' ON WAY HERE

National, Regional Groups Competing
In Fight Against Lung DiseasesBY JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

Residents of north Berrien county will be getting "Christmas Seals" in the mail from two separate organizations dedicated to fighting tuberculosis and other lung diseases.

Mailings are scheduled this week from the Michigan Lung Association affiliated with the American Lung Association, formerly the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association which founded Christmas Seals in 1907.

Also in the mail will be "Local Seals" from the new Tuberculosis and Emphysema Association of Berrien County. This organization campaigned in south Berrien last year and is making its first appeal in north Berrien county this year.

The new Berrien association is affiliated with a seven-county regional organization headquartered in Battle Creek whose director, Miss Blanch Sylvester, said their seals are called "Local Seals" and have holiday and Bicentennial themes.

Miss Sylvester said her organization broke with the Michigan Lung Association in 1971 when the association decided to close its Calhoun county office and consolidate at Kalamazoo.

There also are differences in policies between the rival seal organizations. The Tuberculosis and Emphysema Association stresses direct services saying "All funds raised by your use of these Seals will be used here in Berrien county."

The Michigan Lung Association backs improvements in medical services and informational campaigns such as the rights of the non-smoker, according to Andrew Kovacs, executive director.

"We are the official Christmas Seal organization," said Kovacs. "Our trademark is the familiar red double-barred cross which other organizations cannot use."

The American Lung Association got a consent judgment in U.S. District court in Pennsylvania prohibiting a disaffiliated group from using the term "Christmas Seals," Kovacs said.

Kovacs explained a major policy difference is the use of X-rays, "which the other organization calls a direct service." The Michigan Lung Association no longer promotes community X-rays.

He cited a bulletin from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1972 that stated: "Community chest X-ray surveys among the general population are not productive as a screening device for the detection of tuberculosis and should not be done."

The same bulletin also said: "Community chest X-ray surveys among the general population for detection of other pulmonary disease or heart disease have not proven sufficiently rewarding and should not be done."

Miss Sylvester said her organization provides free chest X-rays as a direct service to the public and some 2,000 teachers a year required to be X-rayed as a condition of employment.

Mrs. Mary DeFoe, north Berrien chairman for the Tuberculosis and Emphysema Association, said proceeds from sale of seals will provide loan of positive, pressure breathing units (IPPB) for emphysema and asthma patients on written request from a physician. Films and educational literature also are available on chest diseases.

Kovacs said the Michigan Lung Association financed advanced study courses for a physician and nurse from Berrien county at National Jewish hospital in Denver, Colo., as part of its campaign to improve medical services. The association also has sponsored medical seminars in Berrien county.

Rancher Glen, the Christmas Seal troubadour cowboy, retired last May after 19½ years of promoting health and non-smoking programs in schools and other public appearance under association sponsorship.

BULLISH YEAR FOR SEALS: The first sale of "Local Seals" in north Berrien by the Tuberculosis and Emphysema Association of Berrien County gets a tall endorsement from Chicago Bulls' star Chet Walker, displaying seals with Mrs. Joan Eblery, director of nurses, Berrien county health department; Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph; Mrs. Mary DeFoe, north Berrien seal chairman; and St. Joseph Mayor Franklin Smith. Association is mailing seals with holiday and Bicentennial themes with proceeds going to fight tuberculosis and other lung diseases. Walker, a Benton Harbor high school alumnus and 12-year veteran of the National Basketball Association, indicated he won't be suiting up this year because he's tired of playing. Chet, 35, seems to get better with age and made similar statement last year, then had great season. (Staff photo)

Stab Victim Year's
First BH Homocide

A 21-year-old man became Benton Harbor's first homicide victim of 1975 when he was stabbed to death early Sunday morning.

Benton Harbor police said the victim was George Mason, of 467 Vineyard street, whose body was found in a house at 338 Colby street. Arrested on an open charge of murder was Odessa Jordan, 26, of 338 Colby.

There were 11 murders in the city in 1974. One of the victims died in January, 1975, of wounds sustained in a December, 1974, shooting. At this time last year, the city had recorded 10 homicides.

Police said Odessa Jordan was arrested after officers were called to her home about 2 a.m. Sunday. Mason sustained stab wounds to the shoulder and back, one of which apparently severed a major artery, police reported.

A witness was quoted by police as saying Mason was stabbed during a scuffle with a woman. A butcher knife was confiscated.

He is survived by a son, Marcus Bell, Benton Harbor; his father, George Mason, Sr., Benton Harbor; his mother, Mrs. Arrie Watson, Benton Harbor; a sister, Mrs. Velma Kilgore, Benton Harbor; two brothers, Willie Mason, Benton Harbor, David Mason, St. Louis; and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Ursher, Benton Harbor.

Young Wife Falls
From Car; Injured

A young rural Benton Harbor woman was hospitalized early Sunday after she fell from the car she was riding in on M-139 just north of Napier avenue, Fairplain, state police of the Benton Harbor post reported.

Reported in "fairly good" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, was Patricia Ann Hart, 17, route 3, Benton Harbor. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Timothy, 24. He was unhurt in the 2:20 a.m. accident.

Mrs. Hart told troopers she leaned against the front passenger door just after the car turned on to M-139 from Napier. The door apparently was not closed properly, she reported. No tickets were issued, troopers said.

In another accident, a driver was injured Sunday in a two-car collision on Niles road at the intersection of Trail lane near Hickory creek. St. Joseph township police said.

Police reported Dennis Lee Schramm, 35, of 1518 Ar-sought his own treatment for minor injuries in the 10:15 a.m. accident. The other driver, Charlene A. Johnson, 16, of 1087 Wedgewood road, St. Joseph township, was unhurt. She was ticketed by police for failure to yield the right of way.

Landing Gear
Pilot Unhurt

A rural Benton Harbor pilot escaped injury Sunday when the landing gear of a homemade plane he was testing collapsed while he was taxing on a runway at Ross Field. The plane was damaged as it skidded off the runway.

Benton Harbor police reported the pilot was Duane Earl Rock, 37, of 4087B Pipestone road, Sedus township. He told police the right landing gear collapsed and the plane sustained damage to its belly and propeller. It slid along a runway and into a grassy area to the side, Rock reported.

Owner of the plane was identified as Donald Schrier, 5539 Defield road, Coloma. The plane is a single-seat, single-engine experimental model. Police said it was damaged in the accident 12:17 p.m.

Berrien Youth Fair Profit
Sets Record At $49,417By JERRY KRUEGER
Farm and Features Editor

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The 1975 Berrien County Youth fair showed a record profit of $49,417, fair association members learned at the 30th annual meeting Saturday night.

Also at the meeting, President Robert Norris of Berrien Center retired from office. Lowell "Spike" Bruce, also of Berrien Center and son of an earlier fair association president, was elected by the board of directors to succeed Norris. Bruce is supervisor of Berrien township.

Some 200 people attended the annual meeting at the Youth Memorial building on the fairgrounds.

Treasurer Ernest Jelinek of Lakeside, who also retired from the board, reported the record profit for the 1975 fair as part of the financial report for the fiscal year ended Sept. 22. The $49,417 profit compared with $40,662 realized the previous year. Fair attendance set a record of 119,538 this year.

Jelinek's report showed gross receipts for the year were $214,668 and total expenditures were $174,438. Total assets of the fair association were $830,724 and liabilities were $113,036, leaving a total equity of $717,688 in buildings and grounds and other capital improvements.

President Norris told the membership 1975 saw the biggest physical expansion on the fairgrounds in any of the fair's 30 years. Among the improvements were two commercial exhibit halls, a restroom, lighting of a 30-acre parking lot, and a major expansion of the machinery and power display area.

Five members of the board of directors were re-elected to three-year terms: Richard Bassler and Jerry Wiggins, both of Niles; Barbara Kolm and Murvin Merrill Jr., both of Berrien Springs; and P.J. Walton of Three Oaks.

Three new members elected to the board were Mrs. Ray (Carol) Bronckel of Niles, John Chestnut of Three Oaks, and James Harrison of Berrien Springs.

Officers elected at an organizational meeting of the board immediately after the annual meeting were: Lowell Bruce, president; P.J. Walton, first vice president; James Reed, Niles, second vice president; James Dehnen, Berrien Springs, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward (Barbra) Kolm, Berrien Springs, secretary.

Bruce is the son of F.W. "Bud" Bruce, Berrien Center, who served as fair association president from 1963 to 1970. Retiring President Norris headed the board since 1970.

A third director retired from the board at the annual meeting. He was George Schmalbach of Benton Harbor.

Winners of a fair photo contest, for pictures taken by youngsters during the fair, were announced for the first time. Winners in the senior division were Mark Stevens, first; Bruce Foster, second; and Scott Foster, third, all of Niles. Junior division winners were John DeBoer, Bridgman, first; Randy Hoffman, Benton Harbor, second; and Venson Ratnam, Berrien Springs, third.

Center Offers Class On Women Writers

The Women's Center at Lake Michigan college is offering an eight-week course, "Contemporary Women Writers," beginning Thursday, Oct. 16.

The course will meet Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. through Dec. 18. No classes will be held during the weeks of the Women Unlimited festival or Thanksgiving.

Registration fee is $11 in addition to the $1 required student activity fee. One course credit will be offered.

Those interested may register by contacting the Women's Center between 9 a.m. and noon today through Thursday.

In keeping with the LMC Community Services philosophy, no tests or papers will be given in the course. Guest lecturers and slide presentations will be featured in addition to class discussion and individual readings.

Instructors will be Lynn Lonze and Dawn Thomsen. Both women hold degrees in English and American literature and are concerned with the role of women in contemporary society.

"The main idea behind the course is to read current women writers whose protagonists are women," says Lonze. "Women protagonists are finally being portrayed honestly and humanely because they are finally being written about by women."

"We are going to read and discuss some fiction, non-fiction and poetry," added Lonze, "and we hope that new ideas will be generated through our discussions."

Required readings will include works by Jane Howard, Virginia Woolf, Doris Lessing, Marge Piercy, Sue Knuffman and Lois Gould.

In addition to five required books, students will be encouraged to read works of their own choosing and discuss them with the class.

Asians In Hawaii Topic For Film

The contributions of the Asian people to the culture and economy of Hawaii is the subject of the featured movie to be shown for Family Film Night at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library, St. Joseph, Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

"Hawaii's Asian Heritage" presents the popular concept of Hawaii as a resort, and then switches to the Asian people and their contributions to the economy and culture of the island. The film studies each race, religion, food, type of dwelling, holidays, arts, schools and the harmony with which all the people live.

Also to be shown Tuesday is "Quebec — Citadel City," a camera tour of the old city of Quebec, and "Wreckhunters," which shows scuba and deep sea divers exploring the Volunda, Loveland and the Kismet, which sunk in 18th century conflicts, the S.S. Atlantic, which foundered in a snowstorm in 1873, and others.

A story hour for preschool through second grade children will be held Saturday, Oct. 18, at 11 a.m. Featured will be Perry, Puppy Puppet, with Indians, witches, goblins and elves.

A collection of Wedgewood and other china will be in the display case for the month of October, through the courtesy of Dorothy Kenry and Richard Garrison.

New books at the library are "Valley Forge" by McKinley Kantor, "Money: Whence It Came, Where It Went" by John Kenneth Galbraith, and "From Julia Child's Kitchen" by Julia Child.

Sift Flour

If a recipe calls for sifted flour, follow the directions and sift — at least the first time you use the recipe.

After that you can try not sifting and if the result seems equal to the first try omit the sifting after that.

To Wed Oct. 31

NEW BUFFALO — The engagement of Miss Carol Ann Ordway to Randy Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wagner, New Buffalo, is announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ordway Sr., Chula Vista, Calif.

Miss Ordway is a graduate of John F. Kennedy high school, Barstow, Calif.

Her fiancé is a graduate of New Buffalo high school and Midwestern School of Broadcasting. He is a member of a LaPorte, Ind., band and is employed by the Village of Michiana.

An Oct. 31 wedding is planned.

Decorating Trends

BY ORLANDO IANNELLI

MIRACLE FIBERS no longer make headlines in our newspapers. There has been such fantastic progress in the development of synthetic fibers that we have come to take them for granted, in everything from clothing to automobile tires.

But without too much fanfare, modern "miracle fibers" are here to stay in our home furnishings. In addition to the durable, wonderfully washable vinyl materials with their leather-like beauty, such synthetics as nylon and acrylic upholstery fabrics are being used in wide variety . . . and are opening a new era of easy-care beauty.

The modern miracle fibers have brought a new richness of color to upholstery, and they are remarkably easy to clean and restore, as well as being hard wearing. You can, in fact, be surrounded by these fabrics from floor to ceiling in a home carpeted, for instance . . . in draperies . . . and in your upholstered pieces.

Science has brought new comfort, too, to our furnishing, with some retaining room padding. If you haven't visited our showroom lately, why not stop in this week . . . and see all the color, comfort and beauty you've been missing!

Activities Planners To Organize

DOWAGIAC — A meeting to form an association of persons involved in diversional activities in nursing homes will be held at Shato nursing home, 811 North Colby street, Dowagiac, Friday, Oct. 17, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

The meeting is open to all persons in Berrien and Cass counties responsible for planning diversional activities.

The group is forming for the purpose of sharing ideas and information within the group. Goals will be to expand and improve existing activity programs and through the sharing process help those persons responsible for planning new programs. Plans also include workshops to meet the needs of the group.

The decision to form the group evolved from a discussion of activity directors held in September at the Michigan Skilled Care Centers, Inc.,

Niles. Representatives from Berrien General hospital, and Bry-Fern, Schato, Shoreham Terrace, Paul Stephen, Claremont and Heritage House nursing homes were present.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the chairman, Betty Renbarger at Berrien General hospital, Berrien Center, or secretary, Betty Burge, at Michigan Skilled Care Centers in Niles.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Every Child Has A Daddy

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman, 26, unmarried, and I have a six-month-old daughter. I have not seen my child's father since I told him I was pregnant — nor do I care to. He has never seen his little girl and if I can help it he never will.

When strangers stop me on the street to admire the child and ask, "Where is her daddy?" what should I say?

In this day and age why do people assume that every child has a daddy? How can I let them know, without going into my life's story, that I have no husband and I wish they wouldn't be so nosy?

With the increasing number of out-of-wedlock children being born, something should be done to help those of us who are — Just A Little Different.

Dear Just: Every child has a daddy, whether he is married to Mommy or not. Rather than put your child on the defensive I suggest you tell her, when she begins to ask questions, that she does, indeed, have a daddy but you didn't marry him. You should also add that you love her enough to make up for her daddy's love, even though he isn't able to live with her.

I sense your enormous hostility toward the father and I hope you'll get over it before you poison the child's mind. Maybe the guy is a no-good rat, but turning a child against an absent parent never helps. As for the inquiries from strangers, a simple, "Her daddy is away" will do very nicely.

Bed-Wetter

Dear Ann Landers: I know you've printed several letters already about the 20-year-old boy who slept at his friend's house and wet the bed. Please, find room for one more.

As a child I, too, was a bed-wetter. But by the time I was 11 years old I overcame the habit. The shame and guilt a bed-wetter feels is indescribable.

I can understand objecting to a guest who brings a dog that is not housebroken, but a bed-wetter is not a dog. It seems to me a person's feelings are more important than a mattress. — Been In The Same Boat

Dear Boat: Sorry, but a 20-year-old is no "boy." He's a man. And he knows whether or not he can trust his bladder.

If he has a problem he should take precautions as a recent writer suggested — rubber pants with padding underneath — and a plastic sheet. I agree a person's feelings are more important than a mattress, but a hostess has feelings, too.

Needle Artist

Dear Ann Landers: Last Monday I received in the mail a copy of your column about a married man who had been carrying on a nine-year affair with his secretary. The envelope was mailed from Fort Wayne. The following day I received the same column clipped from the South Bend Tribune. Yesterday the identical column turned up again — this time from the Yuma Daily Sun.

My husband has never given me a moment's trouble. His secretary is a fine, respectable woman with a lovely man of her own. What does this sound like to you? — Baffled Plenty much faith in a man who has failed to keep his word as many times as he has.

Dear B.P.: It sounds like you carry a needle artist with an air travel card. Forget it.

"Sexual freedom" presents a difficult decision for teenagers and their parents. Ann Landers offers down-to-earth advice in her new booklet, "High School Sex And How To Deal With It — A Guide For Teens And Their Parents." For each booklet, send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

The American Dream

I've never been really sure what the American Dream was until I read a survey on it the other day.

It seems people between the ages of 14 and 25 feel they will have achieved ultimate bliss when they acquire (in this order):

1. A home of their own.
2. A savings account of at least $5,000 and life insurance totaling at least $50,000.
3. A college education.
4. A new car.
5. An air-conditioned home.
6. Opportunities for travel abroad.

7. A stereo.
  8. A Master's degree.
  9. A color TV set.
  10. A dishwasher.
- My personal dream changes daily. There was a time when I envied those who traveled. Now I want to be able to afford staying at home. And the old pressure on a daughter to "Marry a Doctor" has been amended (due to malpractice insurance and the high cost of education). I am now advising my daughter to "Marry a Game Show Contestant" — preferably one on "High Rollers" or the "Big Money Pyramid."
- Maybe when you are 14-25, happiness is synonymous with possessions. At my age (whatever that is) it's the little things that constitute the American Dream:
1. A doctor who will see me when I am sick. I never seem to be able to make my appointment.

2. Someone who doesn't understand a word Henry Kissinger says and will come and sit with me sometimes.
3. A universal spray can that will hold everything from whipped cream and deodorant to starch and hair spray.
4. A recording that has the courtesy to say, "You're welcome" when I say "Thank you."
5. A letter sweater for kids who excel academically.
6. A realistic Christmas savings plan that could withdraw from in March if you had to.
7. A septic tank with an original way of telling you it was going bad.
8. A dishwasher — maybe two of them — who didn't slap one another and yell, "I'm telling!"

Dr. Lester Coleman

My doctor insists that I stop smoking. Yet he smokes himself.

Mr. G.K. III.

Dear Mr. K.: The simple fact is that smoking does not do you or your doctor any good. In fact, smoking can do both of you a great deal of harm.

Each of you must weigh the risks of tobacco and come to your own conclusion as you balance the pleasure of smoking against the potential hazard to health.

You cannot base your decision to stop smoking on your doctor's inability to do so. His destiny is his own.

All physicians agree that smoking is harmful. They know the risks of tobacco and must investigate their own psychological reasons for persisting in a habit that they know to be detrimental to their health.

As far as you are concerned, the familiar phrase, "Don't do as I do, just do as I say," is applicable. Follow your doctor's instructions, not his habits.

The skin under my arms and between my legs are in a constant state of burning. Sometimes the itching is unbearable. I live on a farm.

Mr. H.R., W.V.

Dear Mr. R.: Unless you are specifically allergic to plants, weeds or animals you must seek another reason.

The symptom you describe may be a condition known as "intertrigo," commonly known as "chafing."

Almost always it occurs when two skin surfaces rub together where there is warmth and moisture. This commonly happens in the groin, in the spaces between fingers and in the armpits.

Heavy people are particularly prone to the burning and the itching that accompanies this. When the condition goes untreated, bacterial and fungus infections complicate matters.

Scrupulous personal hygiene and dusting powders are beneficial.

If allergy is the cause, antihistamine drugs prescribed by your doctor will help.

Although you may live a considerable distance from your doctor, it is important that this condition be seen by him so that the exact diagnosis can be established and a specific treatment begun.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Oswald: "Sherlock Holmes — Bridge Detective" was so successful that Frank Thomas has produced a sequel called "The Return of Sherlock Holmes — Bridge Detective."

Jim: "The hands are interesting and almost all show the great detective at his best. However, even Sherlock is not perfect and today we see him making a rare slip."

Oswald: "Sherlock deduced from the bidding that a trump lead would be the best defense. It turned out not to be."

Jim: "Betty Castle, the attractive lady expert sitting South, wasted no time and playing the defense. She won the trump, led a spade to dummy, ruffed a spade, led a second trump, ruffed dummy's last spade and led a diamond."

Oswald: "Holmes and Watson took three diamonds tricks and then Watson had to lead a club. Betty played for the club honors to be divided and wrapped up the rubber."

Jim: "Had Holmes opened a diamond there would have been no end play and no way to make the contract."

Ask the Jacobys

A Missouri reader wants to know if it is true that Bryant McCampbell of St. Louis invented the 4-3-2-1 point count.

The answer is that back in 1915 McCampbell wrote his friend Milton Work suggesting that for notrump valuation he should count an ace as 4, a king as 3, a queen as 2 and a jack as one point. Work adopted this and for many years it was called the Work count. Goren extended it to suit bidding by adding one point for each doubleton, 2 for each singleton and 3 for each void. Today, it is called either the point count or the Goren count.

Study Shows High Cancer Rate In Taconite Miners

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study has found almost four times as many cases of lung cancer among a group of Homestake Mining Co. workers at Lead, S.D., as would have been expected among a comparable non-mining population. The study produced what appears to be the strongest evidence to date that very fine asbestos particles increase the risk of lung cancer and other serious respiratory diseases in workers exposed to them.

"Our study found a statistically significant increase in the number of cases of lung cancer and what we call non-malignant respiratory diseases," said Richard A. Lemen, chief of the biometry branch of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) division of field studies and clinical investigation in Cincinnati.

The study of mortality rates and environmental conditions at Homestake over a 12-year period could be significant in the Reserve Mining Co. pollution case.

A primary issue in the marathon Reserve trial revolved around what risk, if any, was presented by asbestos-fiber filers contained in Reserve's discharge of taconite wastes into Lake Superior. The study concluded that the primary cause of increased rates of lung cancer and other respiratory diseases was the workers' exposure to ores of the cumingtonite-grunerite amphibole mineral series, which are identical to those found in Reserve's taconite tailings.

Subjects for the study were 439 white male mineworkers first examined by the U.S. Public Health Service in 1960. All worked at least five years in underground mining at Homestake and had never worked at another mine, Lemen said.

The study found 70 deaths among the 439 subjects by 1973, Lemen said, when only 32.9 would have been expected in a comparable group.

Ten of the deaths were from lung cancer, compared with 2.7 expected, and eight were from nonmalignant respiratory diseases, compared with 3.2 expected.

Of particular significance, said Lemen, is the fact that the South Dakota mine was found to have excellent air pollution control in the 1960 study.

John M. Dement, another NIOSH official who participated in the study, pointed out that, "Ninety-six per cent of the fibers we found in this plant and mine were shorter than five microns in length, which sort of tells us that short fibers can cause lung cancer and not just the longer ones."

The study noted that water samples taken near the Reserve plant at Silver Bay, Minn., by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and analyzed by the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York bore a "striking" similarity to the Homestake air samples in both the composition and concentrations of asbestos fibers and in the relative prevalence of short fibers.

Father Wounds 3; Hangs Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — Pedro Lorenzi, 50, the father of seven, was arrested for allegedly shooting three youths while trying to protect his daughter. He hung himself in a jail cell less than 24 hours later, police say.

"I can't face my kids. I can't face the people on my block," Lorenzi reportedly told correction officials before he was found in a detention hanging from his belt.

A witness to the shooting said that Lorenzi of East Harlem began shooting after a 19-year-old neighborhood youth threatened to hit Lorenzi's 20-year-old daughter, Maggie, during a street argument. The youth and two brothers standing nearby were hit, police said.

All three were taken to Metropolitan Hospital where they were reported in fair condition.

Lorenzi, a hospital worker with no previous arrest record, was charged with attempted murder, assault, and possession of a dangerous weapon.

At the time of the hanging Saturday, Lorenzi was being held in a detention cell in the Criminal Courts building and was technically still in police custody. A prisoner's belt and shoelaces are usually not removed until after has been arraigned and turned over to correction officers, police officials said.

Texas Gas Plant Explosion Kills Three, Injures Two

GOLDSMITH, Tex. (AP) — Three men were killed and two others were injured early today in an explosion and flash fire at a natural gas processing plant in this West Texas town, authorities said.

Witnesses said the blast occurred in the El Paso Natural Gas Co. plant about 1 a.m., apparently while workmen were trying to keep a smaller fire from spreading.

The dead men were not immediately identified.

Virgil Falkner, 49, of Odessa was reported to be in serious condition and was being treated for burns at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa. Mike Autior, 23, of Goldsmith was in less serious condition, suffering smoke inhalation.

"There apparently was one giant flash," said ambulance driver Gary Rowe of Easterling Funeral Home in Odessa. "A pump truck was leveled, and a pickup truck was stripped of even its tires."

"At one time there were fires all over the plant. Shutoffs (of natural gas lines at various points) probably were all that saved the rest."

The cause of the explosion was undetermined.

Prisoners Flee Illinois Prison; Four Still Sought

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Writer

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — Four federal prison escapees who had held a 73-year-old man and his wife hostage for five hours remained at large today following a high-speed chase that ended when their getaway car crashed near here.

Nearly 200 federal, state and local police officers and three tracking dogs — two German shepherds and a bloodhound — flown in from Philadelphia by the FBI combed a 27-square-mile area of woods and rolling hills about 5 miles east of Salem late Sunday.

Three officers and two area farmers said they had spotted the four men, who escaped Friday with another inmate by using a homemade electronic device to open the gates of Marion Federal Penitentiary.

considered one of the nation's most secure federal prisons.

The fifth escapee was captured Sunday night after the fugitives' car crashed. Police said the dogs picked up a fresh lead on the other four late Sunday but lost it.

Victor Schaefer, FBI special agent in charge of the manhunt, halted the search late Sunday night.

Tracking dogs and police — including two five-man Special Weapons and Tactical Units — resumed the search early today.

Schaefer said the search will continue "as long as it takes — until we get them or have a good reason to believe they've gone."

The convicts made their way to the rural community of Buncombe, about 20 miles south of Marion, and forced their way into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dotson.

Dotson said one of the men put a butcher knife to his throat and the men held the couple captive in their home for about five hours while they ate, showered, slept and planned strategy.

The escapees took guns, clothing, food and the couple's car when they left early Sunday morning.

About two hours later, a Salem policeman saw the car. He and another officer gave chase in separate patrol cars until the fleeing car crashed along U.S. Highway 50 while attempting to make a U-turn to evade the pursuing officers.

One of the escapees, Arthur T. Mankins, 37, of Germantown, N.C., apparently injured his leg in the crash and was unable to flee with the other four.

The other four inmates were identified as Edward P. Roche, 31, of Katonah, N.Y., serving 30

AGED MAN HELD HOSTAGE

He Was 'Outnumbered'

By CHRIS J. HARPER
Associated Press Writer
BUNCOMBE, Ill. (AP) —
"There are a lot of things I would have done to those guys."

but I was outnumbered," said 73-year-old Hubert Dotson, who was held hostage with his wife over the weekend by five escapees from the federal prison in nearby Marion.

"I was terrified," said Dotson's 62-year-old wife, Mary, after the couple's five-hour ordeal Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Dotson, a retired railroad man, said he was returning home from a town council meeting when he heard strange noises in the front yard of his home.

"A man grabbed me and put a butcher knife to my throat," he said Sunday in a telephone interview.

He said he told the man that his wife would be coming home soon from services at the Church of Christ in Marion, about 90 miles southeast of St. Louis, and the man promised that neither Dotson nor his wife would be harmed if they cooperated.

"They didn't harm us in any way," Mrs. Dotson said. "They weren't abusive. They mostly wanted clothing and a gun and a place to stay for a few hours."

"They couldn't fit into my clothes because they were bigger than me," Dotson said.

He said the men cooked and ate some leftovers at the couple's home and some of them showered, slept and planned strategy in their bid for freedom.

Early Sunday, the five escapees bound the Dotsons with curtain rods, television antenna wire and clothing, Dotson said. They took food, clothing, a shotgun, a .22-caliber rifle and the couple's 1964 Rambler, he said.

Dotson used a pocket knife to free himself and his wife and then called police.

The couple's car was spotted about 90 miles north of Buncombe near Salem later Sunday and was pursued by two Salem police officers in separate cars. The car crashed over an embankment about five miles east of Salem, and one of the escapees, Arthur J. Mankins, 37, of Germantown, N.C., was captured. The four others fled into nearby woods.

About 200 FBI agents and police officers continued to search the area near Salem early today.

NOVIATTE BURNS: Shawano county firefighters try to contain a blaze that gutted part of Alexian Brothers Novitiate at Gresham, Wis., Sunday morning. Complex had been occupied early this year by Menominee Warriors Society. It was not inhabited at the time of the fire which broke out Saturday night but went unnoticed until shortly before 9 a.m. Sunday. No damage estimate was immediately available and the cause of fire was undetermined.

Bereaved Parents Ask 'Death' Law

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio couple whose son died while they were contemplating legal action to disconnect a respirator that kept him alive says legislation should be passed to keep others from "going through what we've been through."

RANDALL CARMEN
Parents want legislation

Richard Carmen said Sunday that panels of doctors and lawyers should be established to consult with family members in deciding when life-support equipment should be turned off for patients who have no chance of recovery.

Carmen's 17-year-old son, Randal, died early Saturday morning. Machines had kept him breathing for 20 days, although doctors said there was no brain activity and no hope.

Carmen and his wife said early Friday that they had decided not to pursue their request for disconnecting Randal's life-support equipment because it was apparent he would die soon. But late Friday night, the couple decided to initiate legal action for the sake of others who might be in similar situations.

Alternate Engine Gets Good Marks

DETROIT (AP) — Initial Volkswagen research on cars equipped with pre-chamber injection stratified charge engines has been favorable, a VW researcher said today.

Walter Brandstetter told a meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers that much developmental work must be done to reach lower exhaust emissions levels.

But, he said, "We are pleased with accomplishments so far and are continuing work on our approach to the stratified charge engine."

Brandstetter described the engine as an alternative to conventional internal combustion engines, many of which require catalytic converters to meet U.S. exhaust emissions standards.

The stratified charge engines also should show more constant emissions levels over long distances than catalyst-equipped engines, the VW researcher said.

The VW stratified charge engine uses a lean air-fuel mixture, supplied to the main combustion chambers through a carburetor. Mechanical fuel injection enriches the overall air-fuel ratio in the pre-chamber before ignition by injecting a small amount of fuel during the final part of the piston's compression stroke.

Tests on the new engine on VW's Rabbit and Dasher models yields fuel economy ratings of between 35 and 40 miles per gallon when measured on the Environmental Protection Agency's highway driving scale, Brandstetter said.

Guard Force Was 'Kind Of Thin'

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — The prison guard-force was "stretched kind of thin" when six inmates made a daring weekend escape from the Indiana state prison, Assistant Warden Jack Duckworth said Sunday.

He said the security force was nine short of the 35 guards normally scheduled to watch the 1,366 prisoners between midnight and 8 a.m. Saturday.

Nine guards were sick or on vacation when the break occurred, Duckworth said. No substitutes were called in for the missing men.

The assistant warden said it was "purely coincidental" that the break occurred while the prison was short-staffed. "The prisoners would have no way of knowing how many men we had on at the time," the prison official said.

The convicts, three of them convicted murderers serving life sentences, surrendered shortly after the break when their getaway car jumped a curb after a tire was flattened by police gunfire.

Taken hostage in the brief escape were Warden Leo Jenkins; his wife, Yvonne; his daughter, Priscilla; and two guards.

None of the hostages was injured. Duckworth admitted the facility is suffering a severe personnel shortage and is 13 guards short. He attributed the shortage to a lack of qualified applicants.

Starting salary for a prison guard is $156.50 a week, a prison spokesman said.

The 26 guards on duty at the time of the 1:30 a.m. break represented "the bare minimum necessary," Duckworth said. The midnight-to-8 a.m. shift is staffed by fewer guards than at other times, he said, because "all activities are over and the men are locked up."

The escapees were identified as Robert Nagy, 40, Columbus;

George W. Moon, 29, Gary; Kenneth Clayton Fulmer, 31, Indianapolis; Albert C. Walker, 44, Nashville; Leland Shoulders, 33, Lawrenceville, Ill.; and Gerald Irvine Jessup, 36, Indianapolis.

Last week, two other inmates walked away from a nearby minimum security work farm during pre-dawn hours. They were reported missing at the 6:45 a.m. morning lineup. One of the two is still on the loose.

Democrats Seek To Reduce Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party leaders, striving to build an atmosphere of harmony and compromise, are considering limits on credential challenges and floor fights at next year's presidential nominating convention.

The Democratic National Committee's executive committee is meeting today to recommend rules to govern the party's convention that begins next July 12 in New York City.

The full 361-member national committee then will consider the proposals Tuesday and Wednesday.

Robert S. Strauss, chairman of the national committee, has proposed rules that would narrow the grounds for mounting a credential challenge, in effect saying that delegate selection could be challenged only if state parties failed to follow the rules they had previously established.

Berrien Convict Dies In Prison Farming Accident

JACKSON — A 29-year-old man sentenced in Berrien county was killed accidentally Saturday when he was pulled into a manure spreader on a farm at Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson.

Prison officials identified the dead man as Herbert Wells, 29. According to prison records, Wells listed his address as Benton Harbor, Berrien county court and police records had listed his home as Hopewell, Va.

Wells was sentenced Jan. 15 in Berrien Circuit court for felonious assault in the shooting of his estranged wife, Theresa, in the face with a pistol Oct. 27 in Lincoln township. He was serving 2-4 years and had been at the prison since March 21 of this year.

According to The Associated Press, Wells was killed when his raincoat got caught in the manure spreader. He had been using a tractor to pull the spreader.

Prison officials said the farmland is located inside the prison complex.

Lloyd J. Martin Of Lawton Dies

LAWTON — Lloyd J. Martin, 67, a longtime leader in Lawton community and area affairs, died Saturday at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Martin was currently serving on the Van Buren county board of commissioners from the district including Lawton, part of Paw Paw village and parts of Decatur, Antwerp and Paw Paw townships.

He was first elected to the position in 1968 while serving as president of the village. He resigned the presidency to become a commissioner.

A graduate of Paw Paw high school, Mr. Martin served as superintendent of Lawton schools for eight years after succeeding Dewey Stabler in 1939.

He lived at 317 Third street.

He was a member of the Michigan Education association, the Professional Bookmen's club and the St. Paul's United Methodist church where he served on the governing board.

Mr. Martin received his bachelor of science degree from Kalamazoo college and his master's degree from the University of Michigan.

Surviving are his widow, the former Opal Blaine, to whom he was married on June 19, 1932, in Paw Paw; three daughters, Mrs. Robert (Shirley) Moffatt, St. Joseph, Miss Martha Martin, Mountain View, Calif., and Mrs. Lawrence (Jane) Delobel, Apple Valley, Minn.; five grandchildren and a brother, Glenn Martin, Paw Paw.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Prindle-Thompson funeral home, Lawton, where friends may call at from 2 until 4 and 7 until 9 o'clock. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Memorials may be made to Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo, oncology unit.

Louisville Police Use Tear Gas In Busing Row

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police used tear gas to disperse anti-busing demonstrators who started fires and hurled rocks and bottles, while pro-busing forces staged a peaceful demonstration in a weekend of public debate over school desegregation. A police officer and a Kentucky state trooper were slightly injured by rocks Sunday night as about 500 anti-busing demonstrators gathered at a shopping center in the southeastern Jefferson County community of Jeffersonton. No arrests were made. Jeffersontown Mayor Herbert S. Meyer and police spokesmen gave the crowd five minutes to disperse after the mayor said the crowd became "just generally disorderly, burning tires, starting fires, setting off fire crackers, running into the street and blocking traffic."

ALLEGED POT SEIZED IN PILEUP: Benton Township Sgt. Donald Watkins stands by crumpled auto after vehicle veered off I-94 near Highland avenue overpass and rolled over several times. Accident occurred Saturday about 2 p.m. Driver, Lawrence E. Bostic, 26, Bolingbrook, Ill., and passenger, Roger Nelson, 25, Chicago, were treated for injuries and released at Mercy hospital. Bostic was later arrested after police said they found quantity of suspected marijuana while checking wreckage. He was charged with possession of marijuana and ticketed for failure to have his auto under control. (Staff photo)

Raiders Arrest 4 At Niles

NILES — Three adults and a juvenile boy were arrested and more than a pound of suspected marijuana was seized in a raid on a mobile home here Friday night, according to Niles township police. A fifth person was detained but later released.

Arrested on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver (sell), were Robert Underwood Jr., his wife Tami, 17, and Ralph Fees, 18, police said.

An 18-year-old South Bend woman also in the mobile home at the time of the 9 p.m. raid was arrested but later released, police said.

The 16-year-old boy arrested was turned over to St. Joseph county Ind. juvenile court authorities, police said.

Officers said Fees is on leave from the Navy. The arrests were made at the Underwood home, Groom's Trailer court, Ontario road, Niles, police said.

Mayor's Victim Of Philly Fire

His brother, Fire Commissioner Joseph Rizzo, said a fireman ran into the 6-foot-2, 250-pound mayor as the two were rushing away from an explosion during the fire.

The mayor, who is up for reelection next month, was scheduled to undergo surgery today. His campaign manager, Al Gaudiosi, said the mayor would be hospitalized for 10 days and on crutches for about two months.

At a press conference early today, plant manager M.J. Voland said the fire was burning in a 500-by-800-foot area used to fuel trucks. He said the plant had received a safety inspection last month.

Officials said the fire was reported Sunday night by a plant security guard and the first alarm sounded at 8:39 p.m.

Periodically throughout the night, explosions shook the area and sent flames more than 600 feet into the air. Fire officials said these were caused by exploding conduits.

Commissioner Rizzo said the fire had been contained since 10 p.m. He said the fire was similar to the Gulf blaze but he didn't elaborate.

The Gulf fire broke out early on the morning of Aug. 17, and was declared under control several hours later. The fatal flareup, caused when oil ignited after spreading under some fire-fighting foam, didn't occur until the afternoon.

Rizzo said his fire department lost most of its foam equipment in the Gulf blaze and was using borrowed equipment at ARCO. Fire boats fought the fire from the river as ARCO trucks carried fuel out of the area, and firemen wetted down storage tanks near the fire zone.

ARCO workers tried to shut the valves so that the fuel in the lines would dry up.

"We're fighting the fire from a ruptured pipe," Rizzo said.

'Cat' Burglar Foiled By Pet

TOKYO (AP) — A cat followed his master when the man made a neighborhood burglary attempt, but when the man fled, the cat did not, resulting in the man's arrest today. "I loved that cat and always took him with me, but I didn't know he was with me then," Masakazu Kodama, 22, told the police.

Employee Snuffs Fire In St. Joe

St. Joseph firemen reported an unidentified Dynac Corp. employee extinguished a fire in kindling near oil storage tanks in the plant parking lot at 229 Kerth street, St. Joseph, Sunday morning.

St. Joseph firemen responded and soaked the area with water from a booster line.

Firemen Sunday evening extinguished a fire in an auto parked in the alley behind 318 Court street, St. Joseph. Firemen and St. Joseph police reported the car is owned by Dwayne Burridge, 318 Court street, and had been driven some distance on a flat tire. Friction ignited oil in the motor compartment. The incident took place 8:18-8:50 p.m. Sunday.

—Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, in a letter circulated on Capitol Hill, has labeled the President's proposal "a political trap" and is offering instead a tax credit plan of up to 3 per cent of taxable income, with a maximum of $360 per return and minimums of $65 for individuals and $130 for couples filing jointly.

—A staff report of the Senate Budget Committee has recommended a $20 billion personal income tax cut in addition to an extension of the $17 billion 1975 reduction. This, the report says, would lower unemployment from its current 7.6 per cent rate to 5.1 per cent by 1980.

—A letter circulated by the Democratic Policy Committee's information task force said that "for the entire period of the election campaign (Ford) would offer voters a tax reduction plus the government programs. But as soon as they vote, the programs would be cut off."

—An issue paper issued by the House Democratic Whip's office charged that Ford's plan is "a pig in a poke whose full effect wouldn't be felt until after the 1976 election." The paper added, "The important thing is putting people back to work. It makes no sense to have them hired in 1976 and fired in 1977."

—A spokesman for the House Republican Policy Committee says it will publish no material on the tax proposal, relying instead on the President's statements and Treasury Department explanations. As for the contention that the timing of the program is political, he said, "as the President told us, if they want to start the spending cuts earlier, he will be glad to cooperate."

Floridian Arrested In Alleged Attack

BLOOMINGDALE — A Lake Wales, Fla., man was arrested early yesterday after a teenage couple told state police in Paw Paw that they had been kidnapped and an attempt made to rape the girl.

State police said the couple escaped unharmed. The 14-year-old girl told officers she injured the man after he took her out of his car to assault her. She said the man had his trousers down at the time.

Police said the couple told them the man had driven them into an orchard off CR-390 near Bloomingdale as they were enroute home from a party in Bangor.

According to officers the girl and her 17-year-old male companion had accepted a ride from the man to get home early yesterday morning. They said he threatened them with a knife.

In custody was a man identified as Levi Jerome Hunter, 23. He was arrested two hours after the couple escaped, troopers said.

Five Traffic Deaths Logged In Michigan

By Associated Press

Five persons lost their lives in traffic accidents this weekend, according to Michigan State Police.

Officials listed the victims as: Mary Ann Miller, 54, of Pewamo, who was a passenger in a car that collided with another car Friday in St. Johns, Clinton County.

Kevin Joseph Bracht, 19, of Elk Rapids, who fell asleep Saturday while driving in Elk Rapids Township, Antrim County. His car rolled over, hitting a tree.

Jack Gill, 43, of Detroit, whose car struck a parked vehicle Saturday on Interstate 75 north of Fells Gate, Wayne County.

William L. Todd, 14, of Tipton, whose bicycle collided with a car Saturday on Michigan 50 in Franklin Township, Lenawee County.

John Mullery, 21, of Manchester, whose car ran off the road Sunday in Clinton Township, Lenawee County.

HARTFORD MIDDLE SCHOOL: Hartford middle school students, grades 6-8, are expected to move into new middle school by Monday, Oct. 27, according to Supt. Gary Waterkamp. When construction is completed, Hartford school system will do away with split sessions, which high school and junior high students have been on for over four years. New middle school, part of which was former North elementary school, cost $2,450,000. Six-sided building is system's auditorium, with new middle school gymnasium in back. Commons area and kitchen is between auditorium and gym and connects to present high school, at left. New shop area and high school gym locker rooms, upper left, are completed. Construction by Hoffman Construction company, Kalamazoo, was financed by $3.95 million bond issue approved by voters in June, 1973. Construction also included new Woodside elementary school and addition to Red Arrow (former South) elementary school. (Adolph Hann aerial photo)

Could Mean More Layoffs; GM In Good Position

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto industry has begun the 1976-model year with a near optimal two-month supply of unsold cars, principally because of low stocks at General Motors Corp.

However, inventories at Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. showed another increase as of Oct. 1, and could signal another round of plant closings and worker layoffs similar to the massive production cutbacks unleashed last fall and winter.

According to the trade journal Automotive News, the industry had 1.5 million unsold 1975 and 1976 models at the end of September. That translated into a 63-day supply, based on the latest daily selling rate.

At the end of August, the companies had 1.44 million cars in stock, but the inventory was equal to a 70-day supply because of a slower sales pace.

Industry analysts consider a 60 to 65 day supply to be about optimal, or most desirable from a merchandising standpoint.

A year ago, the industry had 50 days' worth of unsold cars, but a sudden drop in sales pushed the supply to a record 100 days by the end of 1974, forcing the companies to close plants until inventories could drop to more manageable levels.

Automotive News said GM had a low 47-day supply of cars as of Oct. 1, down from 60 days the month before. Several GM cars — including the Oldsmobile Cutlass, Chevrolet Monte Carlo, Cadillac, Buick Skylark and Pontiac Gran Prix — were reported in short supply. GM's low stocks were credited to a combination of quickening sales and cautious production plans.

AMC stocks fell to 68 days, down from 76 as of Sept. 1. The smallest of the auto companies had a 48-day supply a year ago.

Meanwhile, Ford's supply rose to an uncomfortable 81 days, up from 77 the month before and 55 days a year ago.

Chrysler stocks skyrocketed to a 68-day supply, up from 55 days a month earlier and 45 days a year ago. The firm's full-size cars were in greatest supply, ranging from 112 to 147 days.

But analysts said Chrysler's stocks were overstated somewhat because the firm only began authorizing dealers' to sell 1976 models a week ago.

In related developments this past week:

—The United Auto Workers' union labeled as "ominous" reports that Chrysler would shut its only two big-car plants and idle more than 6,500 workers for the week of Oct. 27 because of its large inventory of full-size cars. Chrysler officials would not confirm the reported closings.

—President Ford, during a visit to Detroit Friday, praised the auto industry for responding "very well to the needs in the energy area," and predicted an excellent year in 1976 for the car makers.

—Worker layoffs in the industry this week will fall to their lowest levels since last Thanksgiving.

BACKERS PUSH CHURCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Potential financial backers are laying plans to raise funds for Sen. Frank Church and are pressing him to make an early decision to seek the Democratic presidential nomination, party sources say.

RESCUE SHIP DOCKS: Newsmen crowd around Capt. Manfred Oppermann shortly after his freighter Lalli berthed at Port of Palm Beach, Fla., with five survivors of the Mimi which U.S. authorities believed was scuttled in the Caribbean sea during a mutiny. ## Mutiny Is Probed After Ship Sinks

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A jurisdictional dispute over a mutiny on the high seas was under way today while five crewmen of a sunken Panamanian freighter were held in a city jail after admitting they had killed their officers and scuttled their ship.

The captain of a West German freighter that picked up the five crewmen in waters northeast of Cuba on Sunday said one of them confessed to stabbing the four officers of the ill-fated Mimi and that the other crewmen went along with the mutiny.

Manfred Oppermann, captain of the Lalli, said, "From what they said, it certainly looks like a mutiny at sea. They admit they killed the officers."

Whatever the dispute was, it was not spontaneous, said Louis Gidel, deputy regional director for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. "It apparently had been going on for some time."

Walter Strube, chief engineer of the Lalli, said he became suspicious when the five crewmen — four Indonesians and a Filipino cook — were plucked from a life raft amid debris from the ship.

"They all had their papers with them," Strube said. "It looked like they knew the boat would sink."

Representatives of the U.S. Coast Guard and the FBI, lawyers for the Mimi's Panamanian owners and its insurance company and officials of the Norfolk, Va., firm that managed the ship were with immigration authorities when the Lalli pulled into this southeastern Florida port with the five crewmen.

The State Department and the FBI are investigating to determine if they have jurisdiction in the case, spokesmen said.

Oppermann said the five might be turned over to West German officials, because the dead officers were all Germans.

The Mimi, a 220-foot German-built ship bought several months ago by a Panama City firm, had loaded 1.5 million pounds of fertilizer in Tampa last week and steamed to Miami with the nine men aboard.

"It seemed pretty calm to me when I went aboard," said Clem Fils, the ship's agent in Tampa. "A lot of the time, a captain will be yelling at the crew and they'll be grumbling, but I didn't see that on the Mimi."

The vessel set off Thursday for Georgetown, Guyana, a Coast Guard spokesman said. On Friday night, a distress call was picked up by an overseas radio-telephone operator in Jacksonville.

The report, cut off before it was completed, said, "There are men fighting. The captain is dead. Please send help ... SOS."

A Coast Guard aircraft spotted the five crewmen Saturday, and the Lalli was diverted to pick them up. A two-day search failed to turn up any sign of the ship's officers.

The crewmen were earlier identified as Malik Abdul, Paulus Heydenmans, Gun Gun Supardik, Mohammed Syiddik and Ponclano Masong.

Gidel declined to confirm the identities and refused to comment on the case, except to say that the four officers were lost at sea.

Detroit Toys With Idea Of Becoming A County

DETROIT (AP) — If some Detroit officials have their way, Michigan could have a new county called Detroit. Under the city officials' proposal, Detroit, Hamtramck and Highland Park would be separated from Wayne County to form a county. The purpose of the idea is to cut costs by eliminating bureaucratic duplication and reducing the governmental expenses for Detroit. Many city officials, including Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, say the idea is "intriguing" and should be explored.

Under the plan, which first was aired last week, Livonia and Westland would become part of the new Wayne County, while Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointe areas would be given the choice of joining either Macomb County or Detroit County. The idea is not without its problems. The division of property is seen as one of the main obstacles.

200-Year-Old U.S. Navy Fighting To Remain Best

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy is 200 years old today and once again trying to maintain itself as the most powerful navy in the world.

The current fleet totals 483 ships, the smallest number since before World War II. The Navy's goal is to strengthen the fleet to 600 fast, modern vessels capable of competing with the Soviet navy, which now has ships in all the oceans of the world.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The U.S. Navy reached its 200th birthday in World War II. But now, in its bicentennial year, it is another crisis.

But some of the planned new ships, such as a heavily armed strike cruiser, cost more than $1 billion apiece, and this has left even the Navy's closest friends in Congress reluctant to approve the Navy's building plans.

It isn't the first time the Navy has encountered money problems since the Second Continental Congress authorized the beginnings of a fleet — two small fighting ships — on Oct. 12, 1775.

The Revolutionary War navy mustered only 27 warships — hardly enough to challenge head on Britain's massive fleet of 400 vessels. Nonetheless, Yankee skippers attacked Britain's merchant ships and occasionally defeated British heavyweights, as in the historic battle between John Paul Jones' Bonhomme Richard and the Serapis.

After that war, Congress lost interest in the Navy for a time. It shrugged off appeals for money to maintain a representative fleet. In time, barnacles encrusted the bottoms of warships laid up without money or mission.

In the War of 1812, the second with Britain, the U.S. Navy gained prestige when it stung the powerful Royal Navy again and again. The legend of "Old Ironsides" was born in the epic victory of the frigate Constitution over the Guerriere. Over-all, historians credit American fighting ships with winning a majority of 25 sea battles with the Royal Navy, the most formidable of that time.

During the peaceful years of the 19th century, the U.S. Navy carried out some of the earliest exploration of the Antarctic, helped open Japan to the world, and showed the U.S. flag in ports around the globe.

The Mexican War came in the 1840s and the Navy mounted the first large-scale amphibious operation in U.S. military history — the landing of 10,000 U.S. troops at Vera Cruz.

Gradually, sailing ships faded and the U.S. Navy turned to steam.

Then came the Civil War, which ushered in the era of the armored ships with the inconclusive battle between the Union's Monitor and the Merrimack. Although most histories of the Civil War focus on the great and bloody land battles, the Union fleet's blockade of the Southern coast had much to do with the Confederacy's ultimate defeat.

With the return of peace, the Navy again was allowed to erode. Within less than 20 years, the Civil War fleet of 700 ships dwindled to 52.

That began to change late last century with the American surge for an overseas empire. The Navy's Capt. Alfred Thayer Mahan became a strong influence in the expansionist era with his writings on "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History."

The sinking of the battleship Maine in Havana Harbor was used as the pretext for a declaration of war against Spain in 1898 and soon the Navy formed the leading edge of U.S. conquest of Cuba and the Philippines.

This country's new global role was fostered in the early 1900s by President Theodore Roosevelt, who sent a "great white fleet" around the world to demonstrate to the old imperial powers that the United States was a force to reckon with.

After the United States entered World War I, in 1917, the U.S. Navy again found itself overshadowed by the colossal land battles in Europe. But the Navy conveyed millions of American troops safely across the Atlantic and past German U-boats.

Along with the other armed services, the Navy slipped into the doldrums after World War I.

However, its development of aircraft carriers in those low-ebb years gave the United States a weapon that ultimately proved decisive in the World War II life-and-death struggle with Japan in the Pacific after Pearl Harbor.

The Navy reached its zenith in World War II, growing to 8,000 ships and at long last supplanting the British navy as the world's dominant seagoing force.

Even Admirals Dine On State Man's Cake

DETROIT (AP)—Bruce Wyckoff, of St. Clair Shores, telephoned his mother with the news that he baked a cake and admirals and even a governor came to share it.

Wyckoff, a third class petty officer in the Navy, competed against a large number of fellow cooks from the Pacific fleet for the right to bake the official cake for a Navy reception Saturday. The governor of Hawaii was on hand.

Wyckoff phoned his mother from Pearl Harbor Friday night to tell of the problems he overcame in baking the three-layer cake with fancy decorating.

Wyckoff, who knew the competition was coming up, had asked his mother for some advice on how to decorate the cake and she sent him a home decorators' cookbook.

"His baking won out over all the entries from the fleet," said his mother, Mrs. Patricia Wyckoff of St. Clair Shores.

Wyckoff, 22, who is assigned to the destroyer escort "Rathburn," learned some of the mysteries of cooking in his pre-Navy days when he worked at a pizza parlor and a restaurant in Warren. That got him started towards a career in the kitchen.

His next big project is his wedding to Gloria Verac in the Philippines Nov. 8, but his mother said he would be too busy to bake a cake for that event.

"We are going over for the wedding, and when we come home there will be a wedding reception and a cake...and maybe Bruce will do that one," she said.

Hearing Slated For Trio In Ann Arbor Kidnaping

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A preliminary examination has been set for Oct. 22 for three men charged in the kidnaping and ransom of a General Motors Corp. executive and his family.

The trio was remanded to Washtenaw County Jail on $50,000 bond after appearing before District Court Judge George Alexander.

The judge said he would study a defense motion to allow the three men to be free their own recognizance until the examination.

The three Ann Arbor men, John Szyjwelski, 20, Daniel

Wirth, 21, and Kenneth Royce, had been held at the Milan federal correctional facility since they were arrested.

The men were arrested within 48 hours of the kidnaping of GM executive William Schulenberg, his wife and three sons on Sept. 29.

State Lawmakers Return Tonight To Face Continuing Fiscal Woes

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Legislature returns from a month recess tonight to face continuing fiscal problems.

One of the first problems to confront legislators during their indefinite stay will be an order from Gov. William Milliken to cut state spending. With the ink barely dry on the new $3.04 billion budget, revenues have not picked up enough to cover expenditures. While Milliken hopes to trim spending as painlessly as possible in one cut — expected soon — it is likely the legislature's considerations throughout the fiscal year will be conducted with an eye cocked at the depleted state money bins.

Pair Seek $775,000 From Penn Central

PAW PAW — Two separate lawsuits filed in Van Buren circuit court seek a total of $845,000 in damages for alleged injuries sustained in traffic accidents.

A Decatur couple, Louis F. and Elizabeth Mayer, are suing the Penn Central railroad for damages totaling $775,000 for injuries Louis Mayer suffered when his car was struck by a train at the 39th street and Burgess road crossing in Decatur township on Oct. 8, 1972.

The suit claims Mayer suffered a skull fracture, broken pelvis, leg, ankle, and internal injuries. His wife also suffered loss of consortium and companionship as a result of the accident, the suit said.

Penn Central was negligent, the suit said, in providing no gate or warning device at the crossing. The train was also coming at a rate of speed too fast for the area, and the engineer made no attempt to blow the engine's whistle or otherwise warn Mayer, according to the suit.

In another suit, Simon and Mary Simmons, route 4, Allegan, seek $7,000 for injuries the couple allegedly sustained in a March 28, 1974, accident in South Haven.

Named defendant was Ronald D. Brandt, 111 East Main, Hartford, driver of a car that allegedly collided with the Simmons car.

Policewomen Flunk Physical Test For Street Patrol Jobs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The police instructor told the women police academy students to try to subdue the smallest of the men in their class. The men were told not to strike the women, but merely to try to fend them off.

The result: One of the women broke her arm; another received back injuries. Not one was able to make a physical arrest, said Capt. George Emil, director of police personnel.

Emil plans to show videotapes of training sessions to U.S. District Court Judge Robert Peckham. Peckham has ordered revisions in physical requirements that had generally excluded women and minorities from jobs as regular patrolmen.

Peckham ordered the revisions in requirements after a suit was filed by Officers for Justice, the NAACP, the National Organization for Women and other groups.

Now Emil wants to know what he's supposed to do with the 29 women currently undergoing training since none qualifies for work as a regular street cop.

A dozen policewomen are now working in positions that do not require physical abilities necessary for patrol duty.

The House and Senate appropriations committees must approve Milliken's cutting order, which may touch off some temporary partisan battles as the Democratic majority fights him to save pet projects. Only the Department of Corrections has been labeled as exempt from further fiscal cuts. Last year, the recession required two separate spending cuts, and in the end the state only got out of the red with a bookkeeping trick. While nobody expects a return to the days of fat surpluses, lawmakers hope to avoid that kind of stop-gap fiscal juggling.

As state accountants try to balance the books, lawmakers will have a variety of other issues to deal with. But a remarkably productive first eight months has left little pressing business hanging. The legislature already has enacted landmark business tax and political watchdog legislation. It raised unemployment compensation and the state income tax. It passed a sweeping program to combat the medical malpractice problem, and waged a bloody partisan battle over teacher strike legislation — the only major bill which died, through a veto.

The furious pace left some residue — the political bill needs corrective work. Gov. Milliken will recommend another shot at school strikes, and legislators are talking about trying to override one or two budget vetoes. The most likely area for a full-fledged battle, however, seems to be in the new issue of the workmen's compensation program. If it occurs, it will pit business against labor once again, and thus Republican against Democrat.

Democrats want to upgrade workmen's compensation payments, saying that some recipients have gone without an increase in a decade while the cost of living has shot up.

Republicans, on the other hand, are willing to listen if the Democrats agree to address the problem of abuses. The whole issue echoes the bitter battle over unemployment compensation earlier in the year. But both sides are making an effort at reaching a top-level agreement before starting work on the legislation itself.

A Record MSU Enrollment

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University has enrolled a record 44,580 students for the fall term, a 2.6 per cent increase over last year's 43,459 students. Ira Polley, assistant provost, attributed the increase to returning students re-enrolling at a higher rate than last year. He said returning students number 1,626 more than last year. The number of first-time freshmen and transfer students is down 161 to 9,925, Polley said.

Canada's Policy Called More Effective Than U.S.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The economies of the United States and Canada are so intricately linked that trends in one country freely migrate across the border and soon are reflected in the economy of the other.

Each is the leading trading partner of the other. Each owns huge industrial assets in the other. In response to interest rates, investment funds flow across the border in either direction, almost as if it didn't exist.

Still, there are contrasts, and none appears more obvious right now than differences in the techniques used by government officials to handle the recession-inflation pressures of the past two years.

A study by Chase Manhattan Bank suggests Canadian officials were more effective in obtaining good results than were American, perhaps because they took more aggressive, direct action. And they are planning more.

Later today the Canadian government is scheduled to announce a program of action against inflation and other economic problems that Finance Minister Donald MacDonald already has termed "unprecedented in peacetime."

As the Chase study notes, consumer inflation in the two countries was precisely the same in the period from the end of 1973 to early 1975, rising by the identical 11.3 per cent average annual rate.

However, the divergence between industrial output in Canada and the United States was substantial. In the same period Canadian output rose at a 9.6 per cent rate, but U.S. production declined at a 6.5 per cent rate.

"Clearly, the U.S. industrial slowdown set in earlier and has been more intense than the drop in Canadian industrial production," Chase observes, documenting the statement further with comparisons of Gross National Product.

Canadian GNP, adjusted for inflation during the same time period, fell at an annual rate of 0.9 per cent, while the decline in the United States amounted to 6.3 per cent on an annual basis.

A noteworthy difference also occurred in real disposable income, with Canadians enjoying a 17 per cent increase last year while in the United States such income actually fell.

Canadian unemployment was less severe. It reached a peak of 7.2 per cent in June 1975, but in the same month the U.S. jobless rate rose to 9.1 per cent. Throughout this year, the jobless rate in Canada has been lower than in the United States.

Says Chase: "The statistics examined suggest that the popular belief that Canada is at the mercy of U.S. trends is not true despite the close economic ties between the two countries."

State Draft Offices Slated For Shutdown

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Nearly two thirds of the Selective Service offices in Michigan probably will be closed early in 1976, says Robert Lundquist, deputy director of draft operations in Michigan. Those slated for elimination include the Kalamazoo office and the only Upper Peninsula office at Marquette.

Others planned for closing include offices at Ann Arbor, Flint, Allen Park, Livonia, Cadillac, Cheboygan and Roseville. Under the plan, Kalamazoo and southwestern and south central Michigan would be served by the Lansing office. Other offices remaining open would include Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Detroit and Pontiac, he said.

Statewide, said Lundquist, the plans call for a 35 to 40 per cent reduction of the 88 Selective Service jobs authorized in Michigan.

Turk 'Hard-Liners' Losing In Election

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Opponents of the release of any of the territory seized by the Turkish invaders of Cyprus were losing heavily in Senate elections as vote counting continued today. With half the votes counted, Premier Suleyman Demirel's conservative Justice party and former Premier Bulent Ecevit's leftist Republican People's party were splitting 85 per cent of the votes almost equally.

In the 1973 general election, the Justice party got 29.8 per cent of the vote, the Republican People's party got 33.6 per cent, and five small parties divided the remaining 36.6 per cent.

Among the losers was the Moslem National Salvation party, a member of Demirel's government coalition that is opposed to giving up any of the territory taken in the 1974 invasion of Cyprus.

Although Demirel will have to continue his coalition with the National Salvationists and two other conservative factions, it was thought that the election results coupled with the easing of the U.S. arms embargo against Turkey last week would enable him to soften his stand on the stalemated Cyprus problem. The Salvationists' percentage of the vote was run-

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Oct. 13, the 28th day of 1975. There are 79 days left in the year. This is Columbus Day.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, the Continental Congress ordered the construction of a naval fleet. It was the beginning of the U.S. Navy.

On this date: In 1793, George Washington laid the cornerstone of the Executive Mansion in Washington.

In 1845, Texas ratified the U.S. Constitution. In 1914, Ankara was made the new capital of Turkey.

In 1943, during the Second World War, Italy declared war on its former Axis partner, Germany.

Today's birthdays: Playwright Frank Gilly is 50 years old. Former film star Larain Day is 35.

Thought for today: Hope is the only thing that is not taxed today — Lord Birkenhead, English lawyer and statesman, born 1907.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, an American force under Benedict Arnold reached the Dead River, 90 miles from Quebec, the Canadian city the Americans were planning to attack.

Wealthy Iran Still Must Borrow To 'Buy 20th Century'

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The recent oil price increase is going to add more than $6 million a day to Iran's coffers, but the government says it still must borrow money to make ends meet.

The need to seek cash abroad grows from a furious investment rate of $70 billion in a five-year plan ending in 1978 — designed to "buy the 20th century."

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi has vowed to turn his still undeveloped empire of 32 million subjects into a modern industrial power within a generation.

"We haven't bought any fancy houses or cars," said Deputy Commerce Minister Ahmad Me'arazadeh. "We are investing. We want very rapid change."

A drop in foreign oil purchases decreased revenues 20 per cent, from $20 billion in 1974 to an annual rate of about $16 billion in the first half of this year. The 10 per cent oil price increase decided last month by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) will boost Iran's income about $2 billion a year, Iranian officials said. Production also is expected to increase, helping bring in more cash.

But the effect on the March-to-March Iranian budget year will not be felt quickly enough to ease a strain caused by the nation's ambitious development drive.

"This may not even close the $2 billion deficit gap in our budget," said Habib Argehi, deputy minister of industry and mining.

Government agencies are delaying payments on development projects to hold down expenditures and give the price increase time to take hold. Officials have been told to cut back entertainment. There is less caviar on banquet tables and guest lists have shrunk.

"We are trying to watch them so they don't spend so lavishly," said Ahmad Korous, deputy minister of economics and finance. "The Persian tends to entertain."

Korous said the cost-cutting is aimed at shaving government expenditures by 20 per cent. Most economies came from postponing projected rises in the number of government employees, he added.

"If OPEC hadn't increased the prices, then it would have been time to really cut down some projects," said Ahmad Vatanian, a high official of the Planning and Budget Organization.

The government wants to avoid this at all costs. The Shah has made clear that he wants his empire to have an industrial base by the time the oil wells run dry around 1980, even if he has to borrow to do it.

"We are going to borrow — and I think borrowing is a healthy thing to do — in the international market or from some of these American banks with which we are in contact," the monarch told a recent interviewer.

Cosmonauts Arrive In U.S. To Return Goodwill Visit

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is observing the Columbus Day holiday by

OUT LIERS were patriots during the American Revolution, particularly those living in the Carolinas, who left their families at home and hid out to avoid taking the oath of allegiance to the King. The term was also applied to patriots or Tories escaping the vengeance of their political enemies. The World Almanac reports.

greeting modern-day voyagers from the Apollo-Soyuz space mission.

The two Russian cosmonauts are starting a tour of the United States and the three American astronauts have just finished a similar goodwill visit to the Soviet Union.

The two teams, who linked up in space last July, were scheduled to hold a joint news conference today and planned to meet later with the President in the Rose Garden. The astronauts and cosmonauts were also scheduled in exchange tree seeds, a Russian custom signifying friendship.

Ford has met all five of the spacemen before, but this is the first time he will have met their families.

Cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Valery Kubasov arrived at Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland on Sunday to begin the two-week sightseeing visit that will take them to major cities across the United States.

Astronauts Thomas Stafford, Donald Slayton and Vance Brand returned from their two-week tour of the Soviet Union on Oct. 4. As the Russians emerged from a Russian jetliner, a military band played the national anthems of both nations. The cosmonauts shook hands with the astronauts, then after a brief reception boarded a bus for Washington.

The Apollo-Soyuz crews will visit Chicago, Omaha, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Reno, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Nashville, and New York.

Their joint flight in July, which lasted 44 hours and was the first rendezvous and docking of spacecraft of different nations, was viewed by millions of television watchers in both nations.

"Together with our American colleagues, we believe that the ... tours of American cities will serve the cause of strengthening peace and mutual understanding between peoples of the U.S.S.R. and U.S.A.," the Soviet news agency Tass quoted Leonov as saying before he began the trip.

The cosmonauts were accompanied by their families, Gen. Vladimir Shatalov, head of the cosmonaut training program, and other Soviet officials.

Dodge Auction Sets A Record

MADISON, N.J. (AP) — The sale of the effects of the late Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge at Geraldine Farms here Saturday set a record in house sales for Sotheby Park Bernet, realizing a total of $1,310,115.

This surpasses the auction house's previous record sale of $1,211,335, set in 1974 at the estate of Louise C. Morgan at her Glen Cove, Long Island, N.Y., estate, Salutation.

The single highest item sold was an Oriental rug for $45,000. A Bureau Plat went for $29,000 to a private collector from the South. Mrs. Dodge paid $420 for the item in 1938.

Sales of her rare gold coins and jewelry will be held in New York at the auction house on Wednesday. The remaining sales of her art collection and Berye bronzes will follow later this season.

Approximately fourth-fifths of the proceeds will benefit the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation and the remainder will go to an animal shelter Mrs. Dodge founded.

Bear, Laker Golfers Qualify For State

One Stroke From Regional Titles

Southwestern Michigan boys golf teams made their presence known in regional competition Saturday.

St. Joseph and Lake Michigan Catholic qualified their teams for the state meets in class A and C respectively, and in the other two classes, area teams just missed the cutoff.

Cory Benford from St. Joe placed fifth in the regional played at Hampshire Country Club, as the Bears took second with a 322 total, one stroke off Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills' winning total. Niles finished in 18th spot (348) and Benton Harbor was 18th (410) in the 20-team field.

Other St. Joe scorers included Drew Najjar (80), John Hahn (80) and Bill Ammeson (83). The Niles golfers and their scores were Andy Clark (89), Andy Bigford (86), Kevin Smith (82) and Jeff Toliver (92). Benton Harbor had Kevin Kinnavy (94), Curtis Shull (98), Tim McCord (103) and Bruce Williams (115).

The top three teams from each regional plus the medalist, if he isn't a member of one of the top three teams, qualifies for the state meet. St. Joseph, along with Ottawa Hills and the third place team, Kalamazoo

Spartan Grid Future Hangs In Balance

MSU Responds To Probe Today

Officials from Michigan State University travel to Denver today to respond to allegations of football recruiting violations before the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

No immediate outcome of the probe will be forthcoming as MSU personnel will meet behind closed doors with the NCAA Committee on Infractions. It may be weeks before the committee's findings are made known.

The Lakers' advance to the class C state meet next Saturday at Clearbrook Country Club in Hamilton.

Bridgman missed the top three in the class D regional held at Pine View Golf Course in Marcellus by two strokes, finishing fourth at 349. The Bees had a chance to put a man into the state meet as Neil Smith tied for medalist honors with a 76. But the senior lost a sudden death playoff to Ed Wright from Grass Lake on the first extra hole.

Grass Lake won the regional by beating Battle Creek S. Philip in a playoff. Both teams earned 341s and Janesville finished third at 347. Gobles ended up in 11th place with a 386 total.

Ed Schroeder carded an 87. Brett Boyd had a 90 and Mark Krieger a 96 for Bridgman. Gobles was led by Brian Clement's 90.

In the class B regional at Saugatash Country Club in Three Rivers, Three Rivers, Paw Paw and Comstock tied for the third and last qualifying spot at 346. Three Rivers won the playoff on the first hole. Dowagiac finished in sixth spot at 350 and Lakeshore tied for seventh with Marshall at 357.

Buchanan was 11th (368), Coloma 13th (371), South Haven 18th (390) and Brandywine 21st (439) for the other area teams and their scores.

Bob Peacock from Gull Lake took medalist honors by carding a 78. Jon Steimle from Dowagiac and Chuck Tella from Paw Paw ended in a three-way tie for third spot at 80. Lakeshore's Dave Hostett had an 81; good for sixth place.

Buchanan was led by Chris Moulds with an 88 while Coloma got an 84 from Rick Friedman. South Haven's top scorer was Kevin Bierhalter at 88 and Brandywine's Jeff Carter shot a 89 to top his team.

Hanging in the balance is Michigan State's immediate football future. The school could be cleared or, if found guilty of some or all of the charges, penalized by anything from a reprimand to expulsion from the NCAA.

Typical penalties for serious recruiting violations at other universities have entailed probation, including a ban on bowl game appearances and television coverage.

The NCAA and Michigan State have kept the lid clamped tight on the investigation, and no one yet knows who made the original complaint that instigated it. But most observers believe it centers around MSU's efforts to recruit high school players in the Midwest, especially in Ohio.

Despite the secrecy, reports have claimed the allegations concern special favors done for high school athletes. Detroit radio station WJR said assistant coach Howard Weyers figured in many of them.

Other reporters unearthed details of how a player used a credit card belonging to an MSU booster to buy clothes, and quarterback Charlie Baggett had to return a 1975 Buick he bought in a special payment deal.

The complaint set in motion the complex NCAA investigation machinery, which began with a cursory check to see if the charge held water. When it appeared did, MSU was notified of the action, and the specific allegations were outlined in a letter.

Michigan State President Clifton Wharton appointed a Public announcement of the NCAA's final decision will not come until the entire procedure is completed, Fuzak said, which could take several weeks.

The investigation threw a cloud over the Spartans' football program, which is on the rebound from some lean years and is considered a Big Ten contender.

To further muddy the waters, Burt Smith was ousted as athletic director in what MSU officials claimed was an unrelated move to shore up administration of the athletics program.

Smith and his charges have steadfastly refused to talk about the situation. Regardless of what happens in Denver, the cloud of doubts about their behavior will not be soon swept away.

Ohio State, Oklahoma Stay On Championship Course

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's possible for Ohio State and Oklahoma, the 1-2 teams in the Associated Press college football ratings, to meet in a postseason bowl game ... but it won't be a head-to-head showdown for the national championship. Since the Big Ten has relaxed the rule which required its champion to play in the say, but it would mean that some other team had beaten out the Buckeyes for the Rose Bowl trip and undoubtedly moved ahead of them in the ratings.

Both teams boosted their records to 5-0 Saturday, Ohio State with a 49-0 rout of winless Iowa, Oklahoma by defeating fifth-ranked and previously unbeaten Texas 24-17 on fullback Horace Ivory's tie-breaking 33-yard touchdown dash in the closing minutes.

However, as the ratings now stand, a 1-3 postseason pairing is possible and Ohio State could meet third-ranked Southern California in the Rose Bowl for the fourth year in a row. The Trojans kept pace by defeating Washington State 28-10 in a Pacific-8 Conference game as Ricky Bell rushed for 217 yards and one touchdown and Danny Reece returned five punts for 133 yards, including a 64-yard scoring jaunt.

The 2-4 teams are set for a Big Eight Conference meeting Nov. 22 when Nebraska travels to Norman, Okla. The fourth-ranked Cornhuskers blanked Kansas 16-0 Saturday as Mike Coyte kicked a field goal in each of the first three periods and Terry Luck threw a 28-yard TD pass to Brad Jenkins in the fourth quarter.

The 5-8 teams are scheduled to meet in College Station, Tex., Nov. 28 but only sixth-ranked Texas A&M still has a chance to be undefeated. The Aggies, held to a 10-9 halftime lead by stubborn Texas Tech, pulled away after the intermission following an interception at the one-yard line by All-American Pat Thomas and cruised to a 38-9 triumph as record-breaking Bubba Bean added a 64-yard scoring gallop to a 47-yarder in the first quarter.

Elsewhere, seventh-ranked Alabama swamped Washington 52-0, No. 8 Michigan tripped tied-for-15th Michigan State 18-6 and ninth-ranked Penn State romped over No. 10 West Virginia 39-0 in their Eastern showdown.

In the Second Ten, Freddie Williams rushed for 201 yards, including a 32-yard touchdown, to lead No. 11 Arizona State past New Mexico 16-10. Missouri, No. 12, walloped No. 14 Oklahoma State 41-14 behind Steve Pisarkiewicz' record 20-27-371 aerial acrobatics, which included scoring tosses of 32 and 75 yards to Henry Marshall.

Notre Dame, tied for 15th place with Michigan State, trailed North Carolina 14-0 after three periods but pulled out a 21-14 triumph with three fourth-quarter scores on a pair of two-yard runs by Al Hunter and Ted Burgmeier's 80-yard scamper after catching a short pass from Joe Montana with one minute left.

Arizona, ranked 17th, stretched its two-year winning streak to eight in a row, a school record, by blanking Texas-El Paso 36-0 as Bruce Hill passed for two touchdowns and scored one and Marvin Baker rushed for 119 yards on 11 carries. The Wildcats are the only major team which hasn't allowed a touchdown and that streak extends back five games, including the 1974 finale.

Jimmy DuBose reeled off 80 of his 180 rushing yards on the first scrimmage play and No. 18 Florida went on to trounce Vanderbilt 35-0. Mike Gayles scored twice on one-yard runs in the final period following a sensational pass-catching show by Larry Seivers to lead No. 19

Tennessee past Louisiana State 24-10. And No. 20 Miami of Ohio used a first-period safety and Sherman Smith's 30-yard pass to Mike Rhodes with 21 seconds left in the half to turn back Dayton 10-0.

Ohio State notched a record 21st consecutive home victory as Pete Johnson, the nation's leading scorer, tallied three times, giving him 14 touchdowns for the season. Archie Griffin rushed for 120 yards, his 28th straight 100-yard regular-season game, and Cornelius Greene completed all eight passes he threw, including a nine-yard scoring pitch to Larry Kain.

Oklahoma and Texas slugged and sweated it out in 90-degree Dallas heat. — "a fiercely fought football game," Texas Coach Darrell Royal said — and were deadlocked 17-all until Ivory's scoring burst with 5½ minutes left capped a 79-yard, seven-play drive.

Southern Cal's Bell erupted for his third 200-yard rushing performance of the season, lugging the ball 38 times.

Nebraska, which has blanked Kansas in four of the last five meetings, did it with defense again, limiting the Jayhawks to 121 yards on the ground and 66 through the air on only two completions in 10 passes.

Texas A&M's Bean zipped for 180 yards on just eight carries. His 64-yard gallop was the longest in the school's history and his career total of 2,467 yards set another record.

Alabama scored three times in less than three minutes of the opening period — Richard Todd's eight-yard run, Willie Shelby's 81-yard punt return and Johnny Davis' 31-yard run — and slaughtered Washington.

Penn State's Woody Petchel rushed for 122 yards and a touchdown while the Nittany Lions' defense recovered five West Virginia fumbles and held the previously unbeaten Mountaineers' 441-yard-a-game offense to an even 200, only 36 on the ground.

Sub QB Leads Incredible Comeback

INSTITUTE, W. Va. (AP) — Former high school football coach Marty Flannery says he's followed his son's athletic exploits "everywhere" but he was home working in his yard Saturday.

He missed one of the most memorable individual comeback efforts in small college football history.

Substitute sophomore quarterback Mike Flannery, who wants to follow in his father's footsteps and be a coach, threw seven touchdown passes as West Liberty State College rallied to deadlock host West Virginia State College 34-34. West Liberty had trailed by 42-13 in the final 11 minutes of the game before Flannery — who entered the game in place of regular Joe Pepe — threw four straight TD passes to rally the Hilltoppers to a 42-42 regulation standoff.

He then connected for two more touchdown strikes in the three overtime periods dictated by West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference rules to earn his team a 54-54 deadlock. It was the highest score ever recorded in a college football tie, breaking the mark of 43-43 set by Trinity College of Connecticut and RPI of New York in 1968.

"Mike hasn't been playing much, so I decided not to go," Marty Flannery said. The elder Flannery retired from coaching at River (Ohio) High School at Hannibal in 1972 after his son quarterbacked the team to a 10-0 season.

His son admitted that he "was still in shock" after his passing barrage nearly pulled out the connoisseur's victory. "Everybody did great; our line was tremendous in the last quarter. I didn't have time to think about what was going on. We were just out there trying to win a game," the quarterback said.

West Liberty Coach Leo Miller, an assistant coach in 1972 when the same two teams locked up in the first overtime game in college grid history, says "I'm just flabbergasted. I've honestly never seen anything like it. Everything just fell into place all at once."

West Virginia State was ranked tenth in the NAIA in pass defense going into the game, but the two West Liberty quarterbacks combined for 376 yards in the air on 17 of 37 attempts. Several more passes were dropped in the open by Hilltopper receivers early in the game.

World Football League May Disband Today

NEW YORK (AP) — World Football League club owners were to meet here today amid published reports the league may disband — or at least slash two franchises — during the session.

Initially the meeting had been called to discuss new ways to market the WFL and its 10 teams, but reports began circulating during the weekend that a motion would be offered to shut the league down.

"You're damned right it is critical," the Memphis Commercial Appeal quoted Memphis Southmen owner John Bassett as saying regarding the meeting.

The newspaper said the possibility of closing down the two-year-old league would be "seriously discussed." A source was quoted as saying even if the league decides to continue, two franchises will be dropped "for the overall good of the rest of the league."

They were listed as the Portland Thunder, which last week took up a collection of $300,000 from the other nine teams to stay alive, and the Philadelphia Bell, which has been averaging only 3,705 attendance at its home games. Reportedly, the eight surviving teams would be able to save a large amount of revenue now expended in traveling to the two cities.

"The home teams get 60 per cent, the visitors 40, and 40 per cent at a place where the attendance is in the area of 4,000, well, you lose a ton of money just playing there," one source was quoted as saying by the newspaper.

Chicago was stripped of its franchise by the league early last month and the demise of Philadelphia would leave the WFL in only one major television market — the Los Angeles market with the Southern California Sun.

The Memphis newspaper said there has been some talk about dropping San Antonio, which still needs $450,000 to be able to finish the season, but it is a less likely candidate for disenfranchisement because it is averaging 11,000-plus attendance per game.

"I can't say what will happen," Bassett said. "Anything could happen. I'm going to sit back and listen to everybody. I don't have any grand design."

Falcons Co-MAC Leader Hodges Sparks CMU; Broncos Lose

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green owns a share of the Mid-American Conference football lead with Northern Illinois today, thanks to its ability to slow Toledo passing genius Gene Swick.

"The Falcons' secondary, tops in the conference, limited Swick to 13 completions, eight under his nation-leading average, in a 34-17 triumph Saturday over the Rockets.

"We contained Swick as well as anybody has all season. It was a super job. I'm just pleased as punch at the job our secondary did," said Don Nehlen, the coach of unbeaten Bowling Green.

In the other MAC game Saturday, reserve tailback Ricky Owens 10-yard sprint in the final quarter provided Kent State with a 22-17 verdict over Western Michigan, mired deeper in last place.

Nonconference games saw Northern Illinois fall to Indiana State 21-10, defending champion Miami (Ohio) blank Dayton 10-0, Ohio University beat William and Mary 22-8, Ball State outscore Richmond 25-14 and Central Michigan master Eastern Michigan 20-7.

Bowling Green limited Swick to a 13-for-23 passing day and kept him from throwing for a score.

Swick, however, became the college game's all-time career play leader. He now has been in 1,367 plays in 1,358 for previous leader Chuck Bixson of Southern Methodist.

Dan Salec rushed for three touchdowns and 152 yards and Mark Miller added two more as Bowling Green became 2-0 inside the conference and 5-0 overall.

Western Michigan punter Jerome Persell fumbled on his own 23-yard line to set up Owens' decisive touchdown for Kent State, winning for the first time in three MAC starts. The Broncos now are 0-4 in the league.

Indiana State rallied from a 10-0 halftime deficit, taking the lead when Eric Oldham snared an eight-yard touchdown pass from Mike Sotak.

Miami (4-2-0) did not score a touchdown until just before halftime on Sherman Smith's 30-yard pass to Mike Rhodes.

"With the score 2-0, I was starting to wonder who was pitching and catching," joked Dick Crum, Miami's coach. Dayton sagged to a 3-4 record.

Wall Hodges rushed for 100 yards for the 17th time in his Central Michigan career and scored two touchdowns for the Chippewas (4-1-1). Eastern Michigan is 3-2-0.

Arnold Welcher, a sophomore tailback, piled up 212 yards and two touchdowns for Ohio (3-1-1). Gary Homer booted field goals of 35, 50 and 27 yards for the Bobcats.

Ball State (4-2-0) recovered four fumbles, safety Mike Lecklider intercepted three passes and the Cardinals sacked the Richmond quarterback five times.

Irwin Match Play Champion

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Hale Irwin, ice-cold and relaxed, can call himself the world match play champion for the second straight year.

He won the Piccadilly Tournament Saturday with a 4 and 2 victory over Al Geiberger, the veteran from Santa Barbara, Calif., in a dull and dull final over Wentworth Club's 6,997-yard par-73 course.

But Irwin, from Kirkwood,

Mo., would be the first to agree there's a slightly hollow ring about the title this year. The championship, spread over three rounds of 36 holes each, is by invitation and the best eight in the world should, in theory, be playing.

But this year, most of the big names — Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller, U.S. Open Champion Lou Graham and Gary Player — were otherwise engaged. The only current titleholder still playing was Tom Watson of Kansas City, the British Open champion.

Making up the eight were John Mahaffey of Houston, Tex., and Jack Newton of Australia — runners-up in the U.S. and British Opens — Graham Marsh of Australia, Bobby Cole of South Africa and Peter Oosterhuis of Britain.

Irwin slaughtered Oosterhuis 9 and 8 in the first round and overran Newton 4 and 3 in the semi-final.

The Piccadilly is about the only major match play tournament left these days, apart from international matches like the World Cup and Ryder Cup. And Irwin pointed out the need to make mental adjustments to a style of competition he rarely meets.

There has been speculation that this year may be the competition's last, but three of the Americans said they enjoyed the tournament.

"I've never had so much fun in my life," said Watson. "It's a unique tournament." said Geiberger. "They treat you fine — where else do you get a house, a cook, a limousine and a chauffeur?"

"It's a helluva good tournament," said Irwin. "Thirty-six holes a day is a bit of a grind but I really enjoyed it and I'd like to come back again."

Irwin collected $20,500 while Geiberger got $10,250 for finishing second.

Four-Goal Weekend For Islander Rookie

Hawks' Esposito Sets Record

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bryan Trottier spent the weekend playing hockey like he was shot out of a cannon. The 19-year-old New York Islanders rookie climaxed a four-goal, three-assist weekend with a goal and one assist against the Boston Bruins Sunday night after scoring three goals in his second National Hockey League game against the Los Angeles Kings Saturday night.

"I'm a little over my head," said the young center, who with linemate Billy Harris helped the Islanders tie the Bruins, 3-3. He was drafted last season, but played a year of junior hockey to sharpen his skills before trying to make the professional ranks. Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday night, the Philadelphia Flyers topped the upstart California Seals 4-1, the Buffalo Sabres bombed the Toronto Maple Leafs 8-3, the Los Angeles Kings topped the New York Rangers 6-4, and the Chicago Black Hawks blanked the Vancouver Canucks 3-0.

It took a power-play tip-in by Boston's Wayne Cashman with five minutes left in the third period to help the Bruins tie. Harris had scored the other Islanders goals, both of them on power plays.

"We really had to grind that tie out," said Boston Coach Don Cherry. "We're not in fluid drive yet. We're just going to have to work it out."

Reggie Louch scored two goals to lead Philadelphia to its third straight victory. Don Suloski and Bobby Clarke had the other Flyers scores, while Dave Heckestad tallied for California, which suffered its first loss in three starts.

Danny Gare scored three goals and Jacques Richard knocked in two to pace Buffalo past Toronto. The Sabres scored four goals in the second period, Gare getting two of them, to take a 5-1 lead.

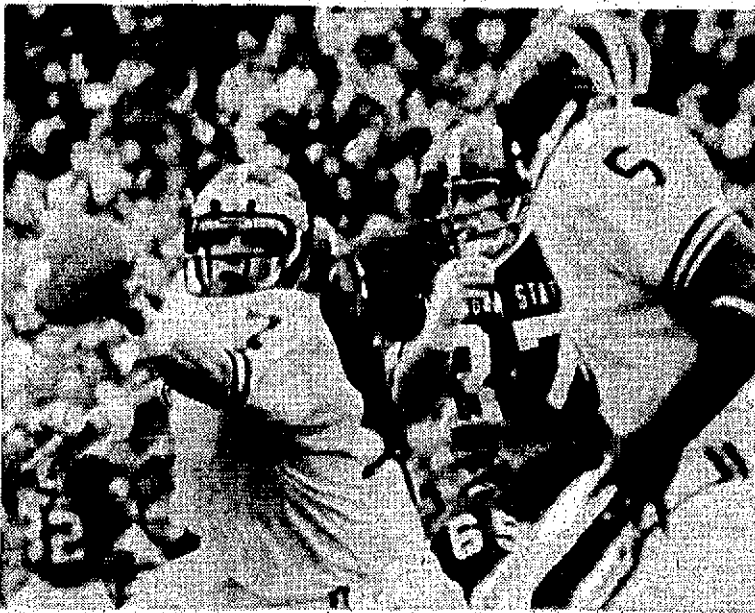

Buffalo also got goals from Jocelyn Guevremont, Don Luce, and Gilbert Perreault. Maple Leaf scorers were Darryl Sittler, rookie Don Ashby and Stan Weir.

The Kings-Rangers game wasn't as close as it sounds. Los Angeles, shut out in its first two games and outscored 18-0, pulled to a 6-0 lead after two periods before letting up.

Vic Venasky scored a pair for Los Angeles, and Marcel Dionne — the center acquired in the controversial deal with the Detroit Red Wings — scored his first for the Kings to lead an attack which also got goals from Bob Berry, Mike Murphy and Mike Corrigan.

Rick Middleton, Greg Polis, Jean Ratelle and Steve Vickers sparked the too-little, too-late Rangers rally.

Chicago goalie Tony Esposito set an all-time team mark of 53 shutouts and got scoring support from Darcy Rota, Phil Russell and John Marks. Esposito's record eclipsed the old mark of 52, set by Glenn Hall, who played for the Hawks in the 1950s and 1960s.

Shane Passes Rams To Victory

Mike Shane threw three touchdown passes Saturday as the Rams storied past the Blazers 30-12 in YMCA flag football action at Hayes Park in Waterford.

Shane threw scoring strikes to Mike Griffin, Tracy Wittenkeller and Mike Anderson. Anderson also ran for another score.

In other action, the Dolphins rolled past the Fighting Irish 24-6 and the Raiders got past the Steelers 13-6 at Fairplain West school. The Rockets nipped the Hustlers 13-7 and the Spartans won their third game in a row, 19-6 over the Dolphins at the Coloma football field.

Ricky Schuler and Jeff Ketcham each scored twice in the Dolphins' win. Schuler scored on runs of 45 and 40 yards, while Ketcham had a pair of 40-yard runs. Mickey Kibler ran 80 yards for the only score for the losers.

Dennis Kiewel tallied TDs on runs of 40 and 60 yards for the Raiders. Chris Jackson scored the losers' touchdown.

Mike O'Leary scored both touchdowns in the Rockets' win. Steve Elliott tallied for the Hustlers.

Paul Fugardi's two touchdowns paced the Spartans. John

Swisher added a 45-yard TD run for the winners. Jeff Ketcham's 40-yard touchdown jaunt was the only score for the Dolphins.

Dropped Pass Beats Memphis

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Birmingham Vulcans defeated the Memphis Southmen 18-14 ... or did Memphis defeat Birmingham?

"I just don't know," said Terry Lee, public relations director of the Southmen, after watching several television instant replays of a controversial play Sunday.

With Memphis on the Birmingham 21, fourth and 13, quarterback Danny White fired a pass to Ed Marshall in the end zone, apparently giving the Southmen a come-from-behind World Football League victory. But the referee ruled that Marshall had dropped the ball as he was hit by a swarm of Vulcan defenders and the pass was incomplete.

"The controversial call at the end of the game was the ball game," Memphis Coach John McVay said.

"I told the official on the disputed touchdown play that I thought Marshall didn't have possession of the ball and they said he didn't," said Vulcan Coach Marvin Bass. "That was a critical call that could have gone both ways."

In other World Football League games Sunday, Charlotte stopped Jacksonville 22-15, Southern California defeated Shreveport 38-30 and Portland edged San Antonio 28-25 in overtime.

In a Saturday contest, the Hawaiians nipped Philadelphia 14-13.

"It was one of those plays," Lee said. "You couldn't tell (because of the camera angle)." Memphis officials said the game would be protested. Don Warner's 25-yard field goal in overtime lifted Portland to its victory as the smallest crowd of the season, only 3,818, turned out to watch the contest. Quarterback Don Horn dove over from the one with 1:14 remaining in regulation time to pull Portland even at 25-25. But the action point, a Horn pass intended for Bob Christensen, was intercepted in the end zone, forcing the sudden death session.

Anthony Davis ran for 139 yards, scoring two touchdowns, to pace Southern California. The former University of Southern California increased his season yardage total to 1,091 in 11 games. The Sun was aided by five fumbles by Shreveport quarterback Ed Hargett, converting three of them into touchdowns as 10,505, the smallest crowd of the season, watched.

Ike Thomas raced 92 yards to score with a second quarter kickoff to lift Charlotte to its victory, breaking a three-game Jacksonville winning streak. Thomas also recovered a fumble, leading to Charlotte's only other TD, a 12-yard pass from Tom Sherman to James Thompson.

Defensive end Lem Burnham blocked a field goal attempt with 12 seconds to go to give the Hawaiians their victory over Philadelphia. The Hawaiians trailed 10-0 at halftime, but Rieu Cassata passed 13 yards to Mike Donohoe for one score and Karl Lorch ran 41 yards with an intercepted pass to put the Hawaiians ahead for good.

HAPPINESS IS: Vic Venasky of the Los Angeles Kings reacts after scoring a goal in the second period of the National Hockey League game with the New York Rangers at Madison Square Garden Sunday night. The Kings gained a 6-4 win, their first this season. (AP Wirephoto).

Ranked Allendale Riddles Lutheran Scoring Record Set In 83-0 Rout

ALLENDALE — Robert Jackson scored five touchdowns Saturday night as Allendale set a modern area scoring record by routing Michigan Lutheran 83-0.

Allendale remembers the old record well. The Falcons lost in Hartford 82-0 during their first varsity season in 1969. The win was the fifth straight for Allendale, which should improve on last week's No. 9 rank in the AP class 'D' poll. The loss was the fifth in a row this year for Michigan Lutheran.

Jackson rushed just seven times for 170 yards. He got Allendale quickly on the board with touchdown runs of 33 and 24 yards early in the first quarter. Jackson later added a 89-yard TD run and also scored on a 60-yard punt return and a 47-yard halfback pass play from Randy Knoper.

Area Girls Blanked In Tennis

There won't be a representative from Southwestern Michigan in the girls' tennis finals next Saturday in Kalamazoo.

Saturday in the Class A matches at Holland, St. Joseph had one girl in singles and two doubles tennis advance to the second round before being beaten. The Bears' ended with three points.

South Haven finished in sixth place in the class B regional at Allegan. The Rams' Sally Getman was beaten in the semifinals by Julie Kaufman of Kalamazoo. Blackett who was the eventual runnerup in the singles play. Paw Paw had two points in the same meet.

At Vicksburg's Class B regional, Brandywine finished in sixth place with one point.

The winners and runnerups from both the singles and doubles advance to the finals at Stowe Stadium.

Connelly Runs To Roadrunner Open Victory

DOWAGIAC — Southwestern Michigan College's Terry Connelly won the Roadrunner Open in 26:20 Saturday at Hampshire Country Club.

SMC took seven of the top 10 spots in the non-scoring meet which included 34 runners.

SMC's next meet will be the Wisconsin Invitational Saturday at Madison. SMC coach Ron Gunn calls the meet, which includes several Big Ten schools, the "toughest one we run all year."

Comings Calls Buckeyes 'Best Team In Country'

Illini, Wildcats Sharing Big Ten Lead

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cry "This was our best game of the season" echoed throughout the Big Ten Saturday with Illinois and Northwestern joining top-ranked Ohio State and Michigan in a four-way tie for the conference lead.

Illinois battered Minnesota's defenses 42-23, Northwestern blanked Indiana 30-0, Ohio State overpowered Iowa 49-0 and Michigan hurdled rugged Michigan State 18-6. Wisconsin kept Purdue winless 17-14.

"This was probably our best game of the season," said Ohio State mentor Woody Hayes. "I don't know why. Maybe because we were home. We just had too many football players for them."

Iowa Coach Bob Comings was convinced. "That is the best team in the country. We have played some good teams in my two years at Iowa and that's the best I've seen."

The Buckeyes used a standard formula for Comings' conclusions. A tough defense to go along with the offensive artistry of Archie Griffin, Cornelius Greene and Pete Johnson.

Griffin gained 120 yards in 21 rushes for his 26th straight regular season game of 100 yards plus. Greene threw only eight passes but completed them all for 117 yards and Johnson punched across three touchdowns to raise his nation-leading total to 14. The Buckeyes did not lose a fumble, had no interceptions and were never forced to punt.

Michigan was not quite as awesome but the Wolverines got the job done against Michigan State. Tailback Gordon Bell broke a 14-1 tie in the fourth quarter with an 18-yard touchdown run to bust open a tight defensive struggle.

Illinois came up with its finest effort of the season, pounding out a devastating 417 yards on the ground with Chubby Phillips scoring three touchdowns in a 21-point second period burst.

"We knew Illinois had a good team which could move the ball," said gopher Coach Cal Stoll. "Their ground game was a combination of good running and a poor defense. Illinois' option play was well executed and run by better people than we had."

Phillips had 60 yards rushing but was only fourth best. Lonnie Perrin gained 90, Steve Greene 83 and Larry Schulz 64. It all offset a fine passing effort by Minnesota's Tom Dugan, who completed 14 of 21 passes for 210 yards and three touchdowns.

Illini Coach Bob Blackman said his team "didn't play defense as well as we would have liked," but three of his veteran starters were sidelined: tackle John DeFelice, end Dean March and back Bruce Coaman.

Superlative performances by tailback Greg Boykin and quarterback Randy Dean kept Northwestern undefeated in conference play. Boykin gained 124 yards, scored two touchdowns and passed for another. Dean completed 11 of 17 passes for 164 yards and each completion netted the Wildcats a first down.

"We played a complete football game and without a doubt it was our best game of the season," said Coach John Pont. "Our defense was out of sight."

So far out of sight that Indiana had a total of 31 net yards going into the final period. The Hoosiers added 57 more against Northwestern reserves.

"We were down," said Indiana Coach Lee Corso. "Northwestern deserved to win. They outplayed us in every phase of the game."

Vince Lamia and Billy Marek headed a comeback which gained Wisconsin its first conference triumph and saddled winless Purdue with its fifth loss of the season.

Lamia's third field goal of the game came with nine seconds left to break a 14-14 tie. Purdue had taken an early 14-0 lead before Wisconsin began turning it around. Marek scored Wisconsin's only touchdown in the final period and then caught a pass from Ken Starch for a two-point conversion to tie the game.

Marek set a Big Ten scoring record with 242 points, erasing the former mark of 237 by Michigan All-American Tommy Harmon established more than three decades ago.

Northwestern's lofty status in the standings will probably end Saturday when the Wildcats invade Michigan. Illinois will try to hold its share of the lead, against Purdue.

Track, Field Start Pan Am Games

Dive-Bombing Pigeons Highlight Opening Ceremonies

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The first of an avalanche of sporting events in the VII Pan American Games began today, heralded by a colorful and tradition-laden opening ceremony at Azteca Stadium.

The first competition among the 4,000 athletes from 33 Western Hemisphere countries was in track and field, with finals scheduled tonight in the men's long jump, men's 10,000 meters and women's 400 meters.

The Games, a quadrennial event that are more of Latin pride than of Olympic competition, include 18 sports and run through Oct. 26.

Akron Upsets Wildcats 30-13

Northern's Division II Title Hopes Diminish

From Associated Press

Northern Michigan's chances for a shot at the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II title got a severe setback Saturday when Akron University hit the sixth-ranked, undefeated Wildcats with a 30-13 upset.

It was NMU's first loss of the season.

Tom Wilhelm scored twice for the Zips, while Akron tailback Billy Mills scored once and rushed for 127 yards. Quarterback Steve Marucci of Northern completed 19 of 31 passes for 267 yards and one touchdown, while Akron's Dan Harvey contributed two field goals.

The Wildcats, who failed to win any of their 10 games last year, are now 3-1. Akron is 4-2.

In other college games Saturday, Michigan Tech whipped Moorhead, Minn., 19-3; Hope routed Kalamazoo 48-0; Northwood defeated Ashland, Ohio, 19-7; Grand Valley dumped Ferris 38-0; and Wittenberg edged Hillsdale 10-7.

Wayne State crushed Northeast Missouri State 41-7; Olivet took Alma 21-7; Albion overpowered Adrian 39-3; and St. Norbert, Wis., beat Saginaw Valley 10-6.

Jim Van Wagner scored on a 87-yard kickoff return and again on a 5-yard dash to lead Michigan Tech in a Northern Intercollegiate Conference victory. The triumph, the first at Moorhead for the Huskies since 1960, left Tech 9-1 for the year and 3-1 in the NIC, while Northwood fell to 1-4 overall and 1-2 in the league.

Tim Van Hest fired three touchdown passes in the first quarter and Mark Boyce tossed for two more in the final period as unbeaten Hope romped over previously undefeated Kalamazoo in a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association game. Hope is now 5-0 for the season and 2-0 in the MIAA, while Kalamazoo stands 3-1 overall and 0-1 in the conference.

evened its season record at 3-3, with Ashland standing at 3-2.

Tim Maki and Levi Hirsch each recovered fumbles in the Ferris State end zone for Grand Valley touchdowns during the Great Lakes Conference game. Ferris is winless in six attempts and 0-5 in the conference. Grand Valley is 5-1 for the year and 1-1 in the conference.

Bob Levey kicked an 18-yard field goal with only 36 seconds remaining to give unbeaten Wittenberg a nonconference win over Hillsdale, Hillsdale, 42 for the season, held Wittenberg, 5-0, to 40 yards on the ground.

Quarterback Ed Stewenski ran for two touchdowns and threw for a third to give Wayne State a nonconference victory over Northeast Missouri, Wayne State, 42, pounded out 407 yards on the ground and 38 through the air in routing up the most points against Northeastern Missouri, 3-2, since 1988.

Quarterback Jack Wallace fired a 68-yard touchdown pass and totaled 199 yards in the air to give Olivet its first win in MIAA play. Olivet, 3-3 overall and 1-1 in the conference, tallied 11 first downs while Alma, 3-2 and 1-1, pined up 17.

Faced by halfback Tim Campbell, Albion ran up 417 yards rushing as it swept by Adrian in MIAA action. Campbell scored twice and gained 132 yards to help boost Albion's record to 4-1 overall and 1-1 in the MIAA. Adrian slipped to 2-3 for the season and 0-1 in the conference.

St. Norbert, behind the passing of quarterback Romy Stephenson, rolled past Saginaw Valley in a nonconference game. Stephenson went 8 for 14, including two touchdowns, in total 108 yards in the air. Both teams are now 3-2 on the season.

Late Starter

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Ben Avallone of New York Park, N.Y., paced football players in the Atlantic Coast Conference in 1974 in total offense with 1,689 yards. He averaged 7.4 yards per play and became a starter for the Maryland team until the season's third game.

Two second-quarter field goals by Kevin Horton proved the winning margin for Northern in the nonconference action against Ashland, Northwood evened its season record at 3-3, with Ashland standing at 3-2.

Police and Mexican army personnel with automatic weapons kept a wary eye on the stadium-only crowd, which was generally orderly.

The appearance of the Mexican athletes during the traditional introduction and parade brought most of those attending to their feet in a screaming, singing, chanting, impromptu demonstration.

The United States delegation, which is expected to again dominate the competition even without a few premiere athletes who stayed home, drew a loud chorus of whistles — the international equivalent of boos.

But the Americans seemed unperturbed. While most of the other delegations waved at the crowd, many Americans broke ranks to take pictures of their comrades.

The Americans were whistled at almost as loudly as were Mexican government officials, including President Luis Echeverria.

A representative of the Mexican news media said much of the boos were good-natured. "Like when New Yorkers boo the mayor of the city at public events," he said.

Most other delegations were received warmly, especially the Cubans and Venezuelans, who carried Mexican flags along with their own.

The Chilean delegation, object of the tightest security here, was greeted politely. These Games were originally to have been in Chile, but they were scrubbed by that country's military government, which took over two years ago following a bloody coup.

CONVERSATIONS OF Antiwar Figures Intercepted?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Agency intercepted conversations of leading antiwar figures in 1968 and 1970 and obtained information about the personal life of civil rights leader Ralph Abernathy, the Washington Post said today.

The agency intercepted the conversations of Jane Fonda, Dr. Benjamin Spock, "Chicago Seven" defendants Abbie Hoffman and David T. Dellinger and former Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, the newspaper said in a story by Bob Woodward.

The agency's job is to intercept and break the messages and codes of foreign countries and to protect the secret communications of the United States. The Post said NSA Director Lt. Gen. Lou Allen Jr. would have no comment on the story.

Citing sources in the intelligence community, the newspaper said the antiwar figures' communications were intercepted from overseas cable traffic, domestic telegrams and long-distance telephone calls and that transcripts were circulated under a highly classified code.

At least 150 messages of the conversations and other communications were reviewed to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and other officials under the so-called "Gamma" designation, otherwise reserved for intercepts of communications by officials of the Soviet Union, the newspaper said.

It said the information about the intercepts was obtained from a source in the intelligence community, the newspaper said.

British Comic Terry-Thomas Shuns Low Pay

Q: I haven't seen that terrific, gap-toothed comedian, Terry-Thomas, for a long time. Does he still make movies? — S.A., Duluth, Minn.

A: He manages to keep busy. But with the British film business in a slump, fewer of his pictures are seen in this country. Thomas has just finished a remake of "Tom Jones," a flick called "Spanish Fly" and another titled "Side by Side." He distains British TV, however, because of the low wages and would rather spend his time between pictures at his home on the Mediterranean island of Ibiza with his 34-year-old wife, Belinda. There he keeps fit by swimming and bouncing up and down on his trampoline.

Q: Is Bella Abzug really going to run for the Senate? — F.C., Bronxville, N.Y.

A: Bella's pollsters are out testing the waters now and they don't look as good as she would like. Though her stand on many issues has brought great support from her West Side district and other places, in most statewide polls she is far down the list to unseat Sen. James Buckley. Outside New York City her early abrasiveness has not been forgotten and both she and former New York Mayor John Lindsay are close to the bottom of the polls. He doesn't care since his first novel, "The Edge," is being published by Norton early next year. The Democrats are just hoping they can convince Bess Myerson to carry the standard.

Q: Could David Frost's planned interview with Nixon about Watergate possibly have an effect on the next Presidential election? — J.F., Frederick, Md.

A: It could but won't. Because, although the interview will be taped before the election, it will not be shown until afterwards. Frost is concerned, however, about Watergate type "leaks" of Nixon statements recorded during the sessions. The material will be closely guarded and Frost jokingly says he may hire TV technicians who don't understand English for the historic taping.

Q: Is it true Golda Meir is writing her autobiography? — V.R., Hollywood, Fla.

A: The 77-year-old ex-leader of Israel has finished "My Life" and in it she makes no excuse for certain mistakes and miscalculations. Just prior to the disastrous October War she accepted assurances from her advisers that there would be no Arab attack. "Today," she says, "I know what I should have done. I should have listened to the warnings of my own heart and ordered a call-up of the troops. For me that fact cannot and never will be erased."

Q: Are they going to show "Deep Throat" in the movie of "All the President's Men"? — G.L., Nashville, Tenn.

A: No. As in the book by Washington Post writers Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward, the Robert Redford-Dustin Hoffman film will not reveal the "source" identified only as "Deep Throat." His voice will be used in the movie version and that will be actor Hal Holbrook, who will only be glimpsed in shadows.

Rural Woman Killed In Van Buren Blaze

BY DENNIS COGSWELL,
Paw Paw Bureau

MARCELLUS — Fuel which overflowed from a space heater was listed by authorities as the probable cause of a fire which took the life of a rural Marcellus woman at her home Saturday morning.

Mrs. Francis H. Graham, 89, route 1, box 70, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Graydon Reimold, Paw Paw. Van Buren deputy medical examiner, following the 7:30 a.m. fire at her home on 94th avenue, according to Van Buren sheriff's deputies.

Her son, Harry Graham, 63, who was also asleep in the house at the time of the fire, was awakened by a neighbor and escaped injury.

Van Buren officials were called to investigate the death because the house is located in Van Buren county, about six miles south of Lawton although its mailing address is Marcellus located in nearby Cass county. The Marcellus fire department was called to fight the fire.

Graham told deputies his mother often turned off the space heater just before going to bed, but would often get up later to relight it.

Deputies said Mrs. Graham's badly burned body was found in the kitchen area of the house, about three feet from the heater.

The neighbor, Willard Fuller, 64, told deputies that after he saw the fire, he tried to get into the kitchen, but was driven back by flames and smoke.

He said he was finally able to knock out a boarded up bedroom window, and awaken Graham, who called the Marcellus fire department.

Authorities had no estimate of damage to the house.

Hagar Firemen Get New Acting Chief

WAYNE W. PRESCOTT

Hagar township fire department, according to Township Trustee John R. Bergstedt, chairman of the township's fire committee.

Bergstedt said Prescott assumes the duties of the chief following the resignation last month of former chief John Haak. Haak joined the Benton township fire department as a fulltime firefighter. He was chief of the department for 12 years.

Prescott will head the 20-member volunteer department until March, 1976, when officers are elected for the new year.

Prescott, 30, has been assistant fire chief for two years, according to Bergstedt, and a member for five years. He resides at 6031 Erie street, Lake Michigan Beach.

Baroda Teen Wounded On Hunt

GALIEN — A 15-year-old Baroda boy who suffered a gunshot wound in the stomach in a hunting accident south of here yesterday, was listed in "guarded" condition at Pawating hospital, Niles, this morning.

Berrien county sheriff's deputies from the Galien substation said the injured boy was Roger A. Brockway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Brockway, 12211 Amy road, Baroda.

Deputies said the boy was accidentally shot by his brother, Ray, 14, while the two were hunting at the farm of their grandfather, Oliver Brockway, Buffalo road, Galien.

Ray Brockway told deputies the .22 caliber rifle he was carrying discharged, striking his brother in the stomach about 2:45 p.m.

Deputies said Ray Brockway told officers the gun went off as he was bringing the gun down to waist level after aiming at a bird that flew up.

South Haven 'Moonlight' Sale Oct. 20

SOUTH HAVEN — Downtown South Haven merchants will conduct their annual onlight Madness sale Monday, Oct. 20 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Bizarre Mishap Fells Boy

By TOM RENNER

SOUTH HAVEN Correspondent
FENNVILLE — A 15-year-old Allegan county teenager was the victim of a freak accident yesterday afternoon, according to state police from the South Haven post.

Troopers said Kevin Klamer, 3140 57th street, New Richmond, was knocked unconscious when he was apparently struck in the head by a fuse thrown from a calouse of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train which was passing by the youth's home.

The youth told troopers he had been watching the Grand Rapids-bound train from his yard at approximately 5:15 p.m. when he was struck behind the right ear by an object. He remembered seeing an arm sticking out of a window of the caboose.

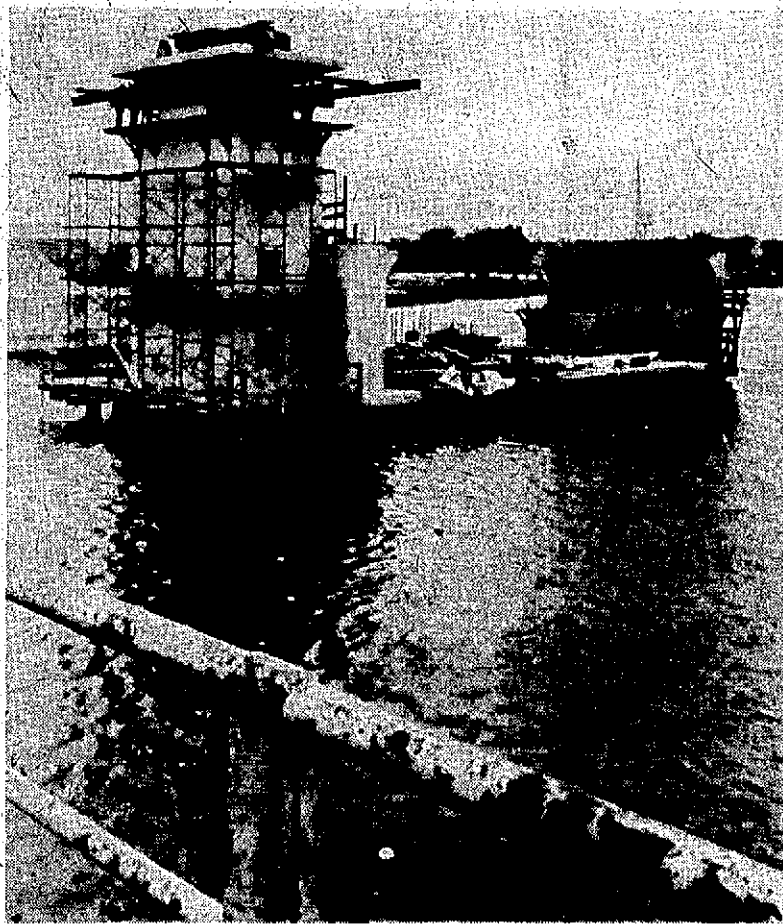

Klamer was knocked unconscious, but was revived at the scene by his father, Robert Klamer, and two friends who had been playing nearby. He did not seek medical attention.

Troopers said a railroad-type fuse was found at the scene. It had not been ignited.

Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials told police a train had been scheduled to be in the New Richmond area about 4:30 p.m.

Martha Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Martha Mitchell, who is undergoing treatment for a hope-marrow disease, has been released from a Northern Virginia hospital.

BRIDGES ON SCHEDULE: The first summer's work on new bridges between St. Joseph (bottom of aerial photo) and Benton Harbor proceeded on schedule, according to Walter Taylor, superintendent for Walter Toebe & Co., Wixom, Mich., the contractor. Concrete work on 50-foot control tower (above) has been completed and work is underway for housing of hydraulic system that will lift the 75-foot leaves of the 150-foot span in the mainstream of the St. Joseph river. Bascule bridge will be supported by four piers and look and operate much like the Blossomland bridge. Morrison channel bridge will be fixed span supported by columns in center of aerial photo at right. Bridges costing $9.2 million are scheduled for completion in August, 1977. They will carry four lanes of traffic, replacing present obsolete two-lane bridges. (Aerial photo by Adolph Hann, staff photo by Harry Smyth)

Niles Apple Parade Pulls Record Crowd

NILES — A record-breaking crowd jammed downtown Niles streets Saturday for the third annual grand parade of the Four Flags Area Apple festival.

Dr. Youssef Yomtoob, president of the festival's board of directors, said the crowd at the parade was estimated at between 15,000 and 18,000. He said 108 marching units, including 30 bands, participated in the parade.

Top honors in float competition went to the First Federal Savings and Loan, Niles, which won the grand sweepstakes award for a float that carried Miss Michigan, Julie Beckers of Allegan. Other winners were Galien, Harmony award; Niles Elks club, Apple Time award, and Niles Township Fire department, Heritage award.

Grand Marshal for the parade was Congressman Edward Hutchinson, R-St. Joseph.

Dr. Yomtoob said that this year's four-day festival was the "biggest and best" of the celebration's three-year history. He said he was pleased not only with the participation and support of Niles area people, but with the number of out-of-town festival-goers the event attracted as well.

Winner of the festival's newest event, an "International Apple Seed Popping contest," was Gary Kolk of Niles. Kolk won the event by popping a wet apple seed between his thumb and index finger a distance of 29 feet, 8 inches.

The festival began Thursday and ended yesterday.

Watervliet Voters Offered Flaherty-Frazier Rematch

WATERVLIE — Watervliet city voters have a rematch of the Robert Flaherty-Arvid Frazier race for the mayor's office on tap for the city's Nov. 4 election.

Frazier, 42, filed for the post Friday. He lost in his initial bid for the job in 1971 when the race was decided by three votes, 169 to 166.

Flaherty, 55, said he planned to file his petitions for re-election today or Tuesday. Filing deadline is 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Flaherty has been mayor for 14 years.

A third possible candidate for mayor was reported to be circulating petitions but has not yet filed. If the candidate files, a three-way race would have to be settled by voters.

Frazier was a city commissioner from 1970 to 1973. He first served on the city's board of review prior to being elected to the commission seat.

An electrical engineer for Indiana and Michigan Electric company, Frazier and his wife, Henrietta, and family reside at 923 North Main street.

Flaherty, 616 Lewiston, is the parts manager of Don Woodham's Ford-Mercury dealership in South Haven.

In other filings, petitions were filed by Milford Lynch, 226 West Parsons, seeking election to one of two board of review positions while Walter Duddy, 349 Bluffview, became the third candidate seeking one of two constable positions.

Shots Fired Through Motel Door Injure 2

HARTFORD — Two migrant workers suffered gunshot wounds Saturday night, apparently in a quarrel with two other men over a woman and money that had been loaned to get her out of jail, according to state police at the Paw Paw post.

Police said Angelo Garcia, 39, and Jacob Jaramillo, 24, were wounded when three shots were fired through the door of a their room at the Royal motel, 1 1/2 miles west here on Red Arrow highway.

Garcia was listed in fair condition at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, today, while Jaramillo sought his own treatment, police said.

Police said they are searching for two white males in connection with the 9:15 p.m. shooting. Police said they were told the two suspects had loaned a 19-year-old female friend of the victims money to get her out of Berrien county jail Friday night and became angered when they were unable to collect the loan.

The money was to pay for fines and costs assessed the woman after her conviction of a drunk and disorderly charge, police said.

NOT SO DEARLY
SILVER SPRING, Fla. (AP) — Rattlesnakes are not as deadly as most people think. According to statistics gathered lower than one per cent of the snakebite victims die.

The Instant It Happened

'DADDY!'

It had been a summer of pain and burden. Two weeks before, he had buried his second son, who died in infancy. He used to say he wanted a big family, at least five children. Now.

On this hot muggy weekend, he leaves Washington to join his family on Cape Cod. Behind him, but never really behind him, he leaves problems, particularly how to react to the brutal assaults by the Diem government in Saigon on the Buddhist pagodas, which have shocked the world; how to ensure passage of the Test Ban Treaty signed a month before and now running into heavy weather in the Senate, how to...

The big blue and white jet with "The United States of America" emblazoned along its length rolls to a stop at Otis Air Force Base. The door swings open. Fifty yards away, a boy breaks loose from his nurse and takes off. At the foot of the ramp, father and son meet in a ballet of joy.

It is Aug. 23, 1963. John Fitzgerald Kennedy bends stiffly, his back still in a brace from a revived injury. Nothing in time or circumstance inhibits John Fitzgerald Kennedy Jr., whose father is home, whose third birthday is still three months and two days off, on Nov. 25, 1963.

Bob Schutz of the Associated Press, a distance away with the rest of the traveling Washington press corps, has his telephoto lens zeroed in on the ramp. Out of the corner of his eye, he sees the running boy.

"It's a beauty, it's a beauty," he keeps telling himself, in one of those rare moments of news photography when a man knows while shooting that he has caught a tender instant. He can't wait to get to town to see the negative.

HEARINGS, INVESTIGATION STARTING

Poisoned Feed In Spotlight Again

By JIM KEEGSTRA
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The contaminated feed poisoning of Michigan livestock two years ago will draw attention again this week in at least two areas of state government.

First will be a public hearing here Tuesday on rules proposed to carry out a new law requiring licensing of commercial livestock feed makers.

Next will be the first meeting of a special state House committee to investigate the Department of Agriculture's handling of the polybrominated biphenyl (PBB) feed contamination.

The poison, a fire retardant chemical made by the Michigan Chemical Co. and mistakenly mixed with animal feed, claimed 500 more cattle last week.

Michigan Farm Bureau Services Inc., distributed the feed. More than 25,000 cattle that were contaminated with more than the federal tolerance level of three tenths parts per million of PBB have been destroyed, records show.

Other losses in the nation's largest livestock poisoning include over 1.5 million chickens, hundreds of hogs and thousands of pounds of butter.

Hundreds of farmers have unsold damage claims against Farm Bureau, or Michigan Chemical Co. Dozens of lawsuits seeking millions of dollars are pending.

"The absolute end to the PBB crisis in Michigan will not be seen for many years," said a recent special state Senate committee report.

A new state feed law was passed last spring as an attempt to prevent future disastrous accidents and regulate feed makers through the threat of taking away their licenses. Proposed Department of Agriculture rules to implement the law are up for comment Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the department's Lewis Cass building in Lansing.

The rules would require licensed feed makers to notify the state in writing if feed is recalled for possible health dangers. The rules define poisonous substances and specify feed bag label designs and ingredient guarantee.

"The rules are completely satisfactory to me," said state Rep. Paul Porter, D-Quincy, sponsor of the new law.

"I think they are sufficient and with the inspection powers the department has today, they'll be in a better position to know what kind of feeds are sold in Michigan," Porter said.

Farm Bureau knew the PBB contamination was serious but didn't report it right away, said

Porter. But how the firm will act differently "in its own interest because of all the lawsuits and the new law," he said.

However, the state representative heading the House committee study said the rules are "mostly something designed by the Department of Agriculture originally.

"It's possible the feed law itself will have to be changed," said Rep. Donald Albosta, D-St. Charles.

Albosta said he will hold hearings around the state to check into farmers' complaints about lack of cooperation from the agriculture department on PBB problems.

He also may reintroduce a modified low-interest loan bill for affected farmers, Albosta said. The first bill was vetoed.

WMU Awards Master's Degrees To 75 From Southwest Michigan

KALAMAZOO — Seventy-five students from southwestern Michigan received master's degrees during summer commencement exercises at Western Michigan University, here, according to a university spokesman. Receiving master's degrees were:

Benton Harbor — Murray Davis III, Rebecca Dodd, Patricia Prior, Maxine Garrett, William Kaeding, Marion Martin, Thomas McCourt, Catherine Sells, Mark Sebenar, Olivia Smith, Janet White, Paul White, Charles Salvano, Sally Smith, William Toms, and Kenneth Zaggy.

NILES — On this late Fall day United States soldiers began escorting some 300 Potawatomi Indians from Michigan to Kansas.

Less than 40 years ago the tribe held sway over parts of Wisconsin, northern Illinois and Indiana and Michigan south of the Grand River.

The government claims that the Indians have no right to the land now, based on treaties between the government and the Indians.

The agent in charge of today's removal, Mr. Godfrey, claimed the move was long overdue. "The treaties provided that the Indians would vacate the land over two years ago," he said. "The troops have been necessitated because the tribe has not moved out on its own."

Godfrey claims that the Indians have been cheated and overcharged by unscrupulous traders and must be moved to protect them from the white settlers.

However, the Indians are not happy with the move and not all are going.

Under the terms of one treaty, about 250 Michigan Potawatomi are staying. Led by Chief Leopold Pokagon, the tribe is being allowed to form a community on lands in Cass county near Silver Creek.

"I signed to save the land which my people have here now. I signed so that I and my children can live in the land of their fathers," Pokagon said.

It is expected by nightfall all the Indians headed for Kansas will have started their journey.

St. Joseph — Sue Derosé, David Durr, Bonnie Fliwick, Donna Hahn, Camilla Hunt, Nancy Hemmingsway, Robert Husek, Lily Leatz, Norman Mittle, Linda Plunhoff, Katherine Robart, James Rindick, Antoinette Schalon, Frank Vogel, Linda Owens, Timothy Tretry, and David Hunt.

Stevensville — Loretta Gibby, W. Lee Muchmore, Donna Hild, Alice Laurer, David Price, Bruce Sweers, and Charlotte Wilkens.

Berrien Springs — Sue Bunce, Roberta Farwell, Sheila Gropp, Diane Kurek, and Gary Kurek.

Niles — Patrick Furner, Gary Groat, Larry Cain, and Thomas

Dowagiac — Patrick Buron, James Gibson, Sandra Bandle, and Michael Petersen.

Allegan — Gordon Bust, John Lancaster, George Mohr Jr., Robert Verplank.

New Twist In Swainson Case

DETROIT (AP) — Perjury charges against the man who has accused state Supreme Court Justice John Swainson of accepting a bribe have been dismissed at the request of county crime fighters. Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Samuel C. Olsen dropped the charges against John J. Whalen at the request of Ron C. Hayes, head of the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force. The charges were opened against Whalen in connection with a burglary at the home of a Detroit police officer. Whalen had told a grand jury the burglary was genuine, but the officer was convicted for setting up the crime at his own residence. The dismissal is seen as a possible hindrance to the defense of Swainson and two other men, Detroit bail bondsman Charles Goldfarb and former Birmingham bail bondsman Harvey Wish. Court observers say they had hoped the perjury charges would cloud Whalen's allegations. The three men are charged with conspiring to help Whalen get a new trial for his conviction in an Adrian burglary. Swainson allegedly got $20,000 to push for the new trial.

JOHN P. ROCHE

A Word Edgewise

Frank Church, chairman of the Senate committee investigating the CIA, has suggested that perhaps Attorney General Robert Kennedy was aware of efforts to kill Fidel Castro. There apparently is no documentary evidence that President John Kennedy was informed of this "executive action." To be a bit immodest, may I point out that about a year ago, operating wholly by informed deduction, I suggested here that this was the case, that perhaps the Attorney General dropped by the Oval Office and said, "Jack, the boys at Langley have some interesting projects I don't think you want to know about." And President Kennedy looked out the window and said, "Isn't it a beautiful day?"

Deductions of this sort are not based on astrology. What few people recall is the bitter hatred the brother Kennedy had for Castro. Even the most rational people have buttons which, when pushed, turn them into ferocious avengers. The Kennedys accepted the old Irish maxim, "Don't get mad — get even," only up to a certain point. Then they got furious. Castro was that button. It is now impossible to convey the impact on the Kennedy Administration, only a few months in office and bubbling with the optimistic vigor (or "vigah" in Jack Kennedy's pronunciation), of the debacle at the Bay of Pigs.

There was a genuine fear in the White House (which I visited at the time) that the American people would boot Kennedy out of office or possibly worse, start laughing at that bunch of inexperienced kids playing games. The background figure was still former President Eisenhower, who had presided over some extremely successful CIA covert operations (in Iran and Guatemala, for example).

The late Robert Kennedy was not one of my favorite politicians; I found his persistent machismo boring. However, I never for a moment questioned his demonic talent. (Indeed, in 1964, which I was National Chairman of Americans for Democratic Action I tried, unsuccessfully, to get the New York AA to endorse Bobby for Senator.) When he set out on a trail, there was no mercy for his quarry: I don't think there ever was a legal full-court press to match the job he did on James Hoffa. Similarly, the day he hit the CIA, heads began to roll. Not because the Agency had tried to overthrow Castro, but because it had failed.

In fairness, there is a long-standing dispute over the facts and some evidence that the President had committed himself to U.S. air cover for the refugee invaders, but pulled back at the crucial point. However, whatever the merits of that argument, the fact remains that the Kennedys looked on Fidel Castro as a mortal enemy. Listen to President Kennedy in Miami, Dec. 28, 1962, accepting the flag of the Cuban invasion brigade (which had recently been ran-somed from Castro): "I want to express my great appreciation to the brigade for making the United States the custodian of this flag. I can assure you that this flag will be returned to this brigade in a free Havana."

Note the date. Kennedy made this strong promise — the rest of the speech is in the same mood — two months after the Cuban missile crisis and our guarantee to Moscow that we would not use military force against Castro's Cuba. Was this merely rhetoric? Or did he have something in mind? We shall probably never have, hard evidence on which to base an answer, but given the atmosphere (which resembled Gaelic clan warfare), I can see no reason why the Attorney General (or the President) would have had any compunction about permitting a hit. Needless to say, the Mafia hardly needed encouragement to "waste" Castro: until he took over, it owned Havana.

Forest Fire Burns

EAGLE, Colo. (AP) — High winds continued to fan a raging forest fire that has consumed 3,200 acres of timberland in northwestern Colorado since it broke out on Saturday, a U.S. Forest Service spokesman said. Nearly 500 fire fighters were called up to help battle the blaze today. The fire, burning out of control in the White River National Forest, was believed to have been started by hunters, the spokesman said.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Holiday Trading Is Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were mixed in quiet Columbus Day trading today.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 Industrials was off a fraction, but gainers held a slight edge over losers in early activity on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts noted some favorable reaction in Vice President Rockefeller's assertion over the weekend that federal help should be given New York City once the city comes up with a plan to balance its budget by 1978.

The White House said Rockefeller wasn't speaking for the Ford administration. But Wall Streeters were nevertheless reading Rockefeller's remarks as a possible sign of a softening in the White House position against a federal rescue of the city.

Despite that plus, however, it was apparent that the market was having trouble attracting any strong participation with some major investing institutions, notably the banks, closed for the holiday.

Today's early prices included Burlington Northern, down 1/2 at 28 3/4; Chrysler, unchanged at 9 1/2; Corning, up 1/4 at 10 1/2; and Champion Spark Plug, down 1/4 at 9 1/2.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average dipped .63 to 823.91, finishing the week with a net advance of 10.70 points.

Three Oaks Man Tells Of Robbery

SAWYER — Vernon Gibbons, 35, 201 Sycamore street, Three Oaks, told state police from the New Buffalo post he was assaulted and robbed of $8 southeast of here early this morning.

Troopers said Gibbons reported the assault and robbery occurred as he was walking along Flynn road, near Sawyer road, in Chikaming township, about 12:30 a.m., after his pickup truck broke down.

An auto approached, and when he walked up to the car, the driver struck him in the face, Gibbons told police.

Gibbons reported he was knocked out by the blow and when he awoke he discovered $8 had been taken from his wallet.

Troopers said Gibbons was unable to give officers a description of the either his assailant or the auto involved.

Chase Tops 100 M.P.H., Police Say

BUCHANAN — Police here said they arrested a South Bend man north of Buchanan early this morning after a chase that reached speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour.

Arrested on charges of reckless driving and use of marijuana was Kenneth Lapkiewicz, 27, of South Bend.

Police said the chase began when they attempted to stop an auto for speeding on north Red Bud Trail in the city about 12:07 a.m. today.

After a high-speed chase, police said, the auto was stopped when the driver pulled into a trailer court north of the city.

Police said a partially smoked cigarette, suspected of containing marijuana, was found in the auto. A passenger in the auto was released after being questioned by police.

GREEK COURT-MARTIAL
ATHENS (AP) — A court-martial began today for 26 army officers and nine enlisted men charged with torturing opponents of the former military dictatorship. It is the second trial of its kind in a month.

SLASHING HOSPITAL COSTS

Whenever you have had to have an operation in the past, you almost surely have had to go into the hospital at least two to three days before the operation to undergo laboratory tests and have the tests evaluated. Result: unnecessary, overuse of scarce and costly hospital beds, inconvenience, lost time away from work or home.

This procedure — which may involve hundreds of thousands of hospital patients on any given day — soon may be obsolete for many types of surgery. To replace it across the country is a program called PAT — Pre-Admission Testing. Under this innovative program, your diagnostic lab tests and X-rays are done in the hospital's outpatient department before, rather than after, your admission for surgery with Blue Cross coverage paying for the tests to the same extent it would have paid if you had been in a hospital bed.

Pioneered by the nation's Blue Cross Plans back in the 1960s, the program was slow to catch on. As recently as 1970, only one in three Blue Cross Plans paid for these outpatient diagnostic tests. Today, though, because of the Blue Cross organization's increasing emphasis on paying for outpatient care, more than two-thirds of the plans provide some form of pre-admission coverage to more than 48 million subscribers and their dependents.

"PAT gives us one of our few means to control costs at a time when a rapidly expanding technology and the heavy cost of labor and services make it hard to hold down rising hospital expenses," says Walter J. McNeerney, president of the Blue Cross Assn.

"Shortening the average patient's hospital stay by even one day during the course of a year would result in total annual savings of well over $1 billion."

More specifically, PAT has been reported as cutting hospital inpatient stays by an average of 1.4 days. In dollar terms, six Des Moines hospitals alone estimated annual savings of up to $340,000 in just room charges through PAT.

Typically, PAT works this way: Your physician decides you need elective surgery and schedules it for, say a Wednesday. Instead of checking into the hospital on Monday or Tuesday, as in the past, you go to the hospital Monday and get your X-rays and appropriate lab tests done on an outpatient basis. You then return home or to work and do not check into the hospital until Tuesday evening or early Wednesday. Meanwhile, your doctor has your test results in

J. L. Hudson

To Spend $80 Million

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The J. L. Hudson Co. announced expansion plans Friday that would produce 2,000 jobs in Michigan and $12 million in salaries over the next five years.

Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., chairman of the department store chain, said the Detroit-based retail department store chain would spend a record $80 million in building six new stores while at the same time upgrading its present outlets.

Five of the new stores will be located in Dearborn, Saginaw, Novi, Sterling Heights and Lansing with a sixth store being planned for the outstate area in 1980, Hudson said.

Hudson said with the planned expansion, the chain would have outlets in all of the state's major cities.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Holdup Attempt, Two Robberies Are Investigated

Benton Harbor and Benton township police reported they investigated two robberies and a holdup attempt that failed Saturday.

Arthur Phillips, 80, route 1, Eau Claire, told city police that two women and a man attempted to rob him after he gave them a ride in his car Saturday about 4 a.m.

Phillips reported he picked the three up in the downtown area and was directed to take them to the 200 block of McCord street where they demanded money. Phillips fled from the area with keys after being struck by one of the women. He was not injured.

Glenn Stiffer, 58, of Grand Rapids, told police he was robbed by a man with whom he had several drinks at a Benton Harbor tavern.

According to Stiffer, he was attacked shortly after he entered his room at the Miller Motor hotel, 250 East Main street about 3 a.m. Saturday. He reported $167 in cash was taken. He was not injured. Stiffer reported he had just finished a number of friendly drinks with his attacker prior to the robbery.

Benton township police reported Charles Willis, 15, of 1220 Monroe street, Benton township, was robbed Saturday as he was walking by the railroad tracks near Pipestone street.

Willis said a man pulled a knife on him and demanded money. Willis gave the man $2 and the robber fled. Willis was not injured.

A Millburg store clerk told state police of the Benton Harbor post a man who was refused service pushed a cash register off the counter Saturday, making it inoperative.

The clerk, Lola Masters, at the Millburg Cut Rate store, Territorial road, told troopers a man came into the store shortly before 9 p.m. wanting to buy liquor. She said he was refused because of being allegedly intoxicated. She reported he pushed over the register, narrowly missing her. He then left the store, she said. Troopers made no arrest, pending signing of a complaint.

State police from the Benton Harbor post were called to search Mull's Drug store, Fairplain Plaza, Saturday night after a bomb threat was telephoned in. Police reported no bomb was found. The threat was received by store personnel about 9:30 p.m. By the time the police search ended, it was time for the store to close.

Three juvenile boys from Benton Harbor and Benton township were arrested Saturday on charges of stealing a pickup truck, according to State Trooper Thomas Harken of the Benton Harbor post.

Harken reported the arrests were made after he stopped the three youths for a traffic violation while they were driving on I-94 in Watervliet township about 8 a.m. Investigation revealed the truck was taken from the home of Paul Walsh of 219 Chippewa road, Fairplain.

The youths, aged 13-16, were petitioned to juvenile court on charges of unlawfully driving away an auto and were lodged at the Berrien juvenile detention center.

In another truck theft, Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Tom Page reported he arrested Reynaldo Cadena, Bowling Green, Fla., after a traffic accident on M-140 near Deans Hill road, Berrien township.

Page said the pickup had gone off the road about 10 a.m. Saturday. Cadena was alleged to have been the driver of the truck at the time of the accident. He was charged with unlawfully driving away an auto.

The truck is owned by Frank Prillwitz, route 2, M-140, Eau Claire, police said.

Benton township police said eight windows were broken sometime over the weekend at the Martindale elementary school, 2199 Laurel avenue, Benton Heights. The broken windows were found Sunday night by a school janitor, Tom Proette, police said, and school officials were to determine if anything was missing.

Obie W. Thompson, 24, of 1278 Broadway, Benton Harbor, was arrested Saturday on charges of larceny from a building and carrying a concealed weapon. State Trooper Ron Olson of the Benton Harbor post said Thompson was arrested about 3 p.m. at the Bargain Center, 1613 M-139, Benton township, after he allegedly tried to leave the store with merchandise he did not pay for. A knife was confiscated during a search.

Benton Harbor police reported they investigated a cutting incident Saturday in which a 30-year-old woman was injured. Treated and released from Mercy hospital for a cut on the wrist was Christine Reynolds, of 813 Britain avenue, Benton Harbor, according to police, she said she was cut by a man with a knife. No arrest was made pending further investigation. The incident occurred about 8:30 p.m.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police over the weekend were:

—Household items valued at $280 from the home of Robert T. Mays, 606 Colfax avenue.

—Clothing, valued at $150, stolen from the trunk of an auto. The clothing was owned by Gail Burks, 635 Buena Vista road.

—A television, valued at $125, from the residence of Anthony Lowe, 236 Pipestone street.

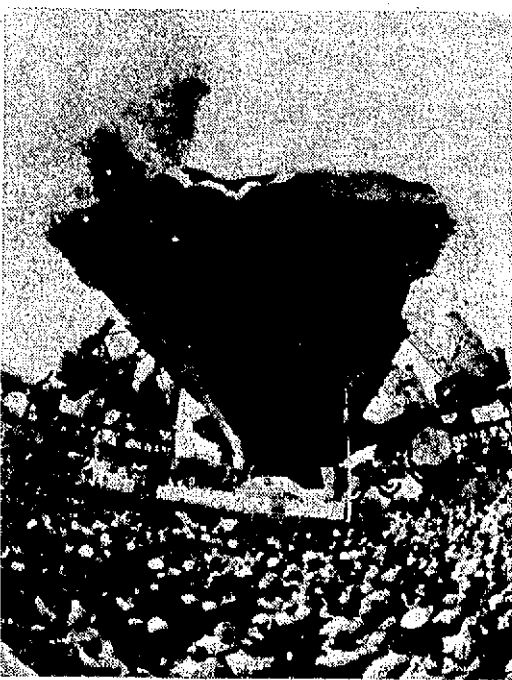

A theft reported to state police at the Benton Harbor post was: $595 in cash and household items from the summer home of Robert Harris, Chicago, at 5672 US-33, Hagat township.

A theft reported to St. Joseph police was a citizen's band radio valued at $150 and a tackle box with fishing gear valued at $50-$150 from a boat docked in the Morrison channel belonging to Roger Cayo, 5290 Notre Dame avenue.

Charles Hedger, 604 West John Beers road, Stevensville, reported to Berrien Sheriff's deputies the theft of a shotgun and stereo tape player, valued at $200, from his mobile home, Sunday.

String Bikinis 'Too Revealing'

WELKOM, South Africa (AP) — String bikinis called "langas" have been banned by city swimming pool authorities because "they reveal too much of the women's bottoms," a city official announced. The city fathers, the official said, however, have no objection to ordinary bikinis.

CQ Congress Votes

BY CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

SENATE

Natural Gas Prices. — The Senate voted 45-50, to keep alive a proposal providing short-term assistance to interstate natural gas pipeline companies and their customers during the expected shortages of that fuel during the coming winter, and providing for the eventual end of federal controls on the price of natural gas. The Senate vote rejected a motion to table, and thus kill, that proposal.

Advocates of the proposal, a substitute for a measure dealing only with the short-term problem, argued that this winter's shortages could not be separated from the longer range problem of dwindling national supplies of natural gas. Both of these matters, they said, were the result of 20 years of federal controls on the price of all natural gas sold outside the state of its production. These controls kept the price artificially low, they said, encouraging wasteful use of natural gas and discouraging exploration and production of this fuel.

Opponents of the proposal argued that by tying the long-range issue to the short-term bill, passage of any measure in time to deal with this winter's problems would be imperiled. They argued that immediate lifting of federal price controls on natural gas would allow it to rise to a level comparable to that of the equivalent energy-producing amount of foreign oil, costing consumers more and resulting in excessive profits for oil and gas companies.

Voting for short-term natural gas assistance and eventual end to price controls: Griffin (R).

HOUSE

CIA Budget. — By a 147-267 vote, the House rejected an amendment to a defense appropriations bill that would have provided for public disclosure of the Central Intelligence Agency's fiscal 1976 budget. The CIA appropriation, according to the amendment's sponsor, Robert N. Glavin (D-Conn.), was hidden in an Air Force account amounting to $2 billion.

Disclosure advocates argued that the public has a right to know the total amount spent by the CIA and that the amendment would not endanger the nation's security. They also said the disclosure step would give the public a gauge for measuring the growth of CIA operations.

But opponents claimed that publishing the budget total would lead to later demands for more information about CIA funds and "will simply aid our adversaries." Opponents also pointed out that every member of Congress now has access to the agency's budget figures.

Voting for CIA budget disclosure: Blanchard (D), Conyers (D).

Voting against CIA budget disclosure: Brown (R), Hutchinson (R), O'Neill (Majority Leader), Rhodes (Minority Leader).

Not voting: Vander Jagt (R).

Pay Raise. — By 278-123 vote, the House accepted President Ford's recommendation to hold pay increases to 5 per cent for members of Congress, military personnel, and federal government top officials and white collar employees. And the move to reject Ford's 5 per cent pay increase recommendation been successful, then pay raises of 8.00 per cent would automatically have been scheduled, as proposed in early August by the Advisory Committee on Federal Pay.

The Senate had earlier upheld the President's pay plan. The House vote meant that the 5 per cent increase took effect Oct. 1.

Supporters of the President's plan to limit federal pay increases to 5 per cent argued that it was needed to curb federal spending and that it was a conflict-of-interest for senators and representatives to vote themselves a salary increase.

Opponents said that federal white collar employees and military personnel should not be singled out to fight inflation and budget deficits. Some members added that the 500,000 black lung victims and dependents whose benefits were tied to the federal pay schedule would be denied needed benefit increases if the President's plan was approved.

Voting for 5 per cent pay raise: Blanchard (D), Brown (R), Hutchinson (R), Rhodes (Minority Leader).

Voting for 8.00 per cent pay raise: Conyers (D), O'Neill (Majority Leader).

Not voting: Vander Jagt (R).

Postal Service. — House members showed their dissatisfaction with the way the U.S. Postal Service is being run by voting 267-123 to take away the financial independence of the 4-year-old agency.

The House adopted an amendment that would require the Postal Service to go to Congress each year for its funds.

Supporters of the amendment said it would make the Postal Service more responsive to the public and would make top postal management accountable to the Congress.

Opponents said the amendment would pull the rug out from under the 1970 Postal Reorganization act which was designed to create an independent postal agency.

The House did not complete action on the postal bill containing the amendment, but was expected to vote on it during this week.

Voting to return Postal Service budget control to Congress: Brown (R), Hutchinson (R), Rhodes (Minority Leader).

Voting not to return Postal Service budget control to Congress: Blanchard (D), Conyers (D), O'Neill (Majority Leader).

Not voting: Vander Jagt (R).

Arms to Turkey. — By a 237-176 vote, the House passed a bill permitting the resumption of limited arms shipments to Turkey. Shipments had been cut off in February by Congress because of Turkey's 1974 invasion of Cyprus using U.S.-supplied weapons in violation of American law.

Supporters of the limited shipments argued that the embargo endangered the national security of the United States and its access to intelligence-gathering bases in Turkey.

They also contended that the embargo inhibited progress in talks between Greece and Turkey on a Cyprus settlement.

Opponents of the bill contended that to ease the embargo would sanction violation of U.S. arms laws by other countries, would reward Turkey for its invasion of Cyprus, and would remove any incentive for it to make concessions on the Cyprus issue.

The bill was subsequently passed by voice vote in the Senate, clearing the measure for the President.

Voting to resume arms shipments to Turkey: Brown (R), Hutchinson (R), Vander Jagt (R), Rhodes (Minority Leader).

Voting not to resume arms shipments to Turkey: Blanchard (D), Conyers (D), O'Neill (Majority Leader).

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
BUCHANAN COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

COUNTY OF BERRIEN
STATE OF MICHIGAN
TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES
Sealed bids for the purchase of tax anticipation notes of Buchanan Community Schools, County of Berrien, Michigan, of the par value of $600,000.00 will be received by the undersigned at 401 W. Chicago Street, Buchanan, Michigan, until 8:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on the 20th day of October, 1975, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated October 21, 1975, will mature April 1, 1976 and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company located in the State of Michigan to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to the approval of the Buchanan Community Schools, Denominations and form of notes to be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

The notes shall be subject to redemption in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest on the first day of any month prior to maturity upon 30 days' notice served by registered mail upon the known holder or holders thereof or published in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries as a part of its regular service notices of the sale of municipal bonds and notes.

For the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from October 21, 1975, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest dollar interest cost to the municipality. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

The loan is in anticipation of the operating portion of the School Tax for the fiscal year July 1, 1975 to June 30, 1976, due and payable December 1, 1975.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2% of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the notes. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of the purchaser's attorney approving the legality of the notes, to be secured at the purchaser's expense. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered at a place to be agreed upon with the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes".

Readers Express Opinions

I take exception only one of your comments, and that is the reference to members of WSL as "girls". Notwithstanding Webster's Dictionary, these women are all out of their chronological girlhoods. (See Webster's definition for "boy.")

Again let me thank you for being such an ardent and outspoken advocate for local womanpower and talent, as was also evidenced in your "Do You Remember column of 25 Years Ago" published 10-8-75. God willing, I hope to be able to help entertain you again, three or four years from now, while parting you with your contribution for whatever community need the WSL will set as their goal for the next Fall.

P.S.: The October 1975 Newsletter For Parents, "Chats", that you mailed me, is most informative and enlightening for such a small publication. I appreciate its receipt. Also notice that out of the four pictures depicting the B.H. Coloma, Watervliet and Lake Michigan Catholic Homecoming Kings and Queens on page 3 of 10-4-75, it appears that the B.H. King and Queen are the only young adults without an address and parents. How sad!

'Police Woman' NBC's Friday Night Miracle

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Around NBC, "Police Woman" is discussed in hushed terms as "the Miracle of Friday Night."

What's so miraculous about another cop show? For one thing, it has given NBC supremacy in the Friday-at-10 slot for the first time in television history. "Police Woman" plus the preceding "Rockford Files," has made Friday night NBC territory since the middle of last season. Not only that, "Police Woman" has four times placed No. 1 in the Nielsen ratings, a rarity for a show on Friday night, when television viewing is traditionally at its lowest.

The turning point came at the beginning of January, when we tied for fourth place with the "Orange Bowl," reports the series star, Angie Dickinson. "During the summer, the ratings kept building because many viewers had missed the shows in the first three months. By that time, those who had been with us from the beginning were content to view the reruns. "One week we got a 62 share

In New York City — meaning 62 per cent of the sets in use. Imagine! The Academy Awards got a 64 share."

She is justifiably proud of a job that might exhaust any one less fit and dedicated. She is in almost every scene, and the scripts call for her to climb walls, run down streets and absorb beatings.

"But during the first season I never missed a day's work," she said. "One day I had a cold, and you can hear it in my voice during one of the scenes. But by afternoon the cold was gone."

Angie Dickinson, 44, is the television producer's joy: a total professional. She is always on time, always knows her lines, always gives a performance. She expects proper treatment from the other side, and she can get upset by network tampering. Such as when NBC switched "Police Woman" with Thursday night's "Ellery Queen" for a test period in Los Angeles, attempting to save the sagging "Queen."

Angie was a reluctant entry in the series sweepstakes. Until two years ago, she was content to make an occasional movie and devote the rest of her life to husband Burt Bacharach and their daughter Nikki. Then she was offered "The Gambler," a segment of the "Police Story" anthology series, with the possibility of aiming at a series.

"I decided against it," she recalled. "But Burt said, 'I think you should try a series.' My agent said, 'Tell me the best situation you could work under, and I'll see if they will go for it.' I told him the schedule I wanted, so I could see my daughter in the morning and get home in time to have dinner with my husband."

NBC and Columbia Pictures Television agreed.

What made "Police Woman" a hit while so many other cop shows have failed? A major factor is Angie Dickinson.

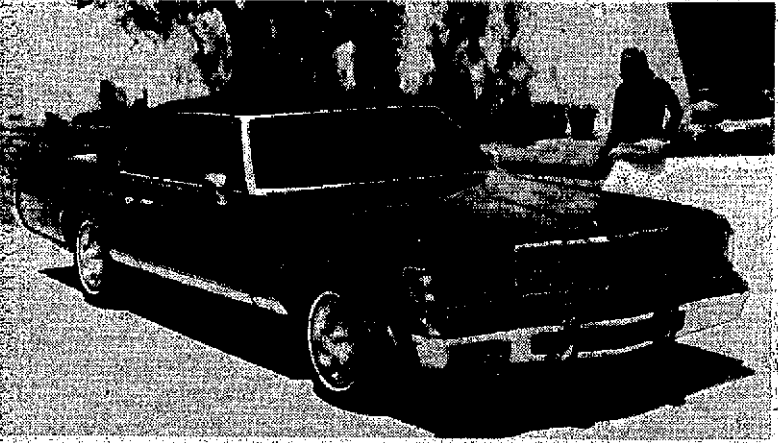

"Men will watch police shows anyway, but I seem to attract a lot of women viewers, too," she remarked. "Women seem to be able to identify with me, where they never could with stars like Marilyn Monroe or Elizabeth Taylor. Stars like those seem too perfect. But women look at me and say, 'If I could lose a few pounds and get my hair frosted, I might be able to look like Angie.'"

She insists that there is more to the appeal of "Police Woman," notably the relationships between herself, her boss Earl Holliman and cops Charles Dierkop and Ed Bernard.

"People like our attitudes toward each other," she theorized. "We always make it a point to say 'Hi' when we meet. And we always try to end the show on an 'up' note, whether it's something amusing or touching. That leaves people with a good feeling."

Educator's Will Bequeaths $48,000 Estate To Andrews

A petition has been filed in Berrien Probate court to probate the estimated $48,000 estate of Mrs. Marion C. Swanepoel, a former Andrews university educator who was killed in an auto accident in Iowa.

Mrs. Swanepoel was director of freshman education at the university, and her husband, Laurens F., was an assistant professor of history there. The Swanepoels, South African nationals who lived at 137 Meadow lane, Berrien Springs, and their son, Carl, were killed Aug. 11 when a semi-truck crashed head-on into their car in Iowa.

Mrs. Swanepoel's 1973 will bequeaths $37,000 in real estate and $11,000 in personal property to the university, and declares that a trust fund established at Andrews be divided with 55 per cent going to Andrews and the remainder to her father, Norman C. Verwey, of South Africa.

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is Columbus Day. Appropriately enough, CBS-TV will air a special tonight called "Travels With Flip," starring the wandering, humor and occasional abrasiveness of comedian Flip Wilson.

Wilson, star of his own NBC variety show for several years before he signed with CBS, is taking a pretty unusual and welcome step tonight by abandoning a studio stage and doing his thing on the road.

He visits Honolulu, San Francisco, Atlanta, Nashville, and the small, predominantly black community of Booley, Okla., using the people he meets as his comic foils instead of the usual variety-show array of guest stars.

Only one professional — country music singer Loretta Lynn — checks in to sing and chat, unless you want to consider Muhammad Ali, who goes through a weak training camp matchup with Wilson, a show biz pro.

The comedian literally starts off on a high point, — aboard a Hawaii-bound jumbo jet, where, to the visible delight of the passengers, he comes on the public address system as stewardess Geraldine.

And advises them, "For those of you who are headed for New York, you are on the wrong airplane."

In Hawaii, where he participated in a feast, rides an outrigger canoe and learns to scuba-div, he becomes the foil for his diving instructor while wading out into the blue Pacific.

"Where is 30 feet?" he asks.

"Well," the instructor deadpans, "there are 15 people on the beach."

One of the show's funniest moments comes when he dresses up as his famous character, Geraldine, and commences work as a sales clerk in the millinery department of a large San Francisco department store.

He grouses at one customer: "All that money and she won't even buy a jive hat!" To a young black lady trying on a hat, he says, "When the revolution come, all the women gonna be wearing this... this'll be nice for Sunday during the revolution."

Another good moment comes as he labors as a conductor on a San Francisco cable car, collecting 75 cents more than the usual two-bits-a-ride fee.

One lady tourist from Ohio is clearly bugged by him. But appearances are deceptive, as you'll find if you watch this show.

Wilson isn't funny all the time. He comes across as a megalomaniac during an Atlanta parade sequence. And his Booley visit, while generally warm and friendly, hits a sour note when, while kidding a black teen-aged lad, he calls the youth "a nigger."

It was in jest and Wilson has heard the word not in jest in his day. But this cut no ice with the kid, who said, "I don't appreciate that." They sort of patched things up with a bicycle race.

But from then on the show got weaker.

Still, what Wilson has done by leaving the safety of the Hollywood studio and visiting the citizenry deserves a cheer. It reminds us — and him — that the sharpest lines in life don't always appear on cue cards.
